AXIS COLUMNS DEEP WITHIN THE BORDER

Rommel Advancing With All Available Force for Major Attack on Matruh—Germans Using Recently-Captured British and American Tanks —Air-Borne Attack From Crete Expected

CAIRO, June 25 (AP).—Axis armored columns were deep in Egypt tonight, penetrating desert terrain never before contested and advancing with all the force Field Marshal Erwin Rommel could muster for a major attack on Matruh, 130 miles east of the Libyan border.

At the cost of heavy losses inflicted by British mobile columns and aircraft which covered a swift retreat of the main elements of the British Eighth Army, the invaders by last nightfall were approximately half way from the frontier to Matruh, having passed southeast of Sidi Barrani, sixty miles inside Egypt.

FALLS FAR BACK

Gen. Neil M. Ritchie abandoned his fixed frontier positions of Sollum and Sidi Omar to fall far back to battle territory of his own choosing, and it appeared the first great fight for the Valley of the Nile would be pitched somewhere about Matruh.

Marshal Rommel in his swift

ALLIED PLANES BLAST ISLANDS

Hit at Japanese Positions at Timor, New Britain And Guinea

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, June 26 (Friday) (AP).—Allied planes swept both northwest and northeast of Australia yesterday, attacking Japanese positions on Timor, New Britain and New Guinea, General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The Japanese meanwhile raided Port Moresby, Australian-held port on the south coast of New Guinea, and a fight developed in which five Japanese fighters and four Allied planes were damaged.

The Allies started large fires in raids on Dili, capital of Portuguese Timor; at Rabaul, New Britain, and at Salamaua, New Guinea.

FIRES STARTED

Allied bombers flew low over Dili in a night attack, starting huge fires with direct hits, the communique said.

Rabaul also was attacked by night, the airdrome being the main target. The Japanese failed to intercept here and "destruction was so effective that large fires were visible sixty miles from the target" the communique said.

Japanese troops' quarters and supply points were attacked by bomb and machine gun at Salamaua.

The Allies had no losses in any of these attacks.

In the fight over Port Moresby the Allied fighters apparently seriously damaged five Japanese fighters, the communique said, while four Allied planes were hit by machine-gun fire, none seriously. All returned safely.

ONE KILLED BY WYOMING TORNADO

WHEATLAND, Wyo., June 26 (AP).—A tornado swept across the flat farming land east of Wheatland, fatally injuring one man and hurting at least ten persons last night.

Joe Salazar, about sixty-five, a sugar beet field worker, died at Wheatland Hospital from injuries suffered in the storm, which uprooted trees and caused considerable damage to crops.

The tornado, accompanied by hail, traveled over an area one mile wide and two miles long. Several buildings in its path were demolished.

Fatally Hurt In Explosion

TRAIL, June 25 (CP).—Ezra Ironmonger, thirty-five-year-old employee of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company here, died today of burns suffered in an explosion in the company's foundry last Thursday. A coroner's jury viewed the body and adjourned the inquest until tomorrow.

Company officials said they believed the explosion was caused when Ironmonger mistook a can of wood alcohol for fuel oil with which he was refilling a salamander.

DEMANDS FOR LABOR GROW

Labor Minister Tells House Workers Needed—Drew Action Is Mentioned

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—Canada has not touched "the fringe of sacrifices necessary to essential industries to provide the workers needed, Labor Minister Mitchell told the House of Commons today.

Speaking in the debate on conscription for overseas service, Mr. Mitchell said it was obvious manpower requirements could not be met solely from the present small number of unemployed.

Transfer of labor would be channeled through employment offices and the National Selective Service officers would always have before them the local demand for and the supply of labor. It would be possible to tighten or slacken labor control as circumstances required, either generally or in particular localities or in respect of particular industries and occupations.

In the debate today, Dr. T. A. Bruce (Con., Toronto-Parkdale) said that if there had been anything unfair in the enforcement of conscription in the last war, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of National Resources, as a member of the Union Government of that time, shared full responsibility, with Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative party leader.

Dr. Bruce said Mr. Crerar had not had "the common fairness" to defend either himself or his former colleague in the present debate.

"But instead, to propose sending

SHARP DEMANDS GO TO GERMANY

Protest Note Over Sinking of Freighter Sent by Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 25 (AP).—Argentina was reported reliably tonight to have dispatched three sharp demands to Germany for complete satisfaction over the sinking of the Argentina freighter Rio Tercero by a German submarine while popular indignation found an outlet in stoning two large German-owned stores in this country's capital.

Argentina was said to have warned Germany that the future relations of the two countries depended on satisfactory answer to this Government's protest. The protest note has not been published but informed circles said it made these main points:

1. A demand for reparation for loss of the ship and the lives of five seamen.

2. A gesture of respect to the Argentine flag.

3. Assurances that the attacks will not be repeated.

SOLDIER DROWNS IN ENGLISH BAY

Three Others Rescued When Rowboat Capsizes—Two Boys Have Narrow Escape

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—A soldier, whose name is being withheld by military authorities, was drowned late today when a rowboat capsized in the rough waters of English Bay, near the entrance to Vancouver Harbor.

Police reported that three other soldiers in the fourteen-foot boat at the time were rescued by naval patrol vessels.

Police and military authorities are dragging the bay in an effort to recover the body of the missing man.

In another part of English Bay a small sailboat overturned, throwing two boys into the water. One of the boys was rescued immediately by another sailboat. The other lad kept afloat with a life preserver until rescued later.

The boys' names were not learned immediately.

Saving Rubber—In the Army Fashion

Canada's soldier is second to none, and the training he is getting both here and overseas prepares him for fighting under hardest conditions. In the photograph above the Army driver has his own scheme of rubber salvage, traveling his jeep with all wheels off the ground. He's just cleared an obstacle and is leveling off for a four-point landing.

Encouraged by Council Meeting

Feeling of Restrained Optimism Created by Review of War Conditions Given by Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, June 25 (CP).—Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt outlined to an extraordinary meeting of the Pacific War Council and to United States legislators today their joint plan to smash the Axis, and apparently created a feeling of restrained optimism and encouragement among the representatives of the United Nations who heard them.

Canada was represented at the meeting by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, who said everyone who heard the all-front review by the two Allied leaders was "impressed with the great seriousness of the world situation," but, at the same time, was deeply encouraged.

AT THE CONFERENCE

Mr. King, in addition to attending the War Council meeting, conferred with Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Churchill, State Secretary Cordell Hull, Under-Secretary of State Sumner Welles and with various British military leaders, including Sir Alan Brooke, Chief of the Imperial General Staff; Sir John Dill, British Army representative on the combined chiefs of staff committee, and Sir Andrew Cunningham, newly-appointed chief of the British Admiralty Mission to Washington.

Arriving here early this morning, Mr. King spent most of the day at the White House, leaving this evening to return to Ottawa. He was accompanied here only by Norman Robertson, under-secretary of state for external affairs.

JAPANESE SANK RUSSIAN SHIP

Crew, Now in Harbin, Discloses Facts Contradicting Japanese Version

MOSCOW, June 26 (Friday) (AP).—A Japanese submarine torpedoed and sank the 4,781-ton Russian merchant vessel Angarstroi on May 1 off the coast of Japan, the Soviet Government charged today in its first mention of a sinking which the Japanese had blamed upon the United States.

The Russian crew, which is now in Harbin, Manchuria, on its way home, reported that two Japanese submarines had come to the surface immediately after the Angarstroi sank at a point thirty-two miles off the Japanese coast.

The Japanese press tried to blame an American submarine for the sinking, the Soviet radio recalled, and then added, "but this version does not coincide with the facts" as disclosed by the survivors.

STAYED WITH SURVIVORS

The two Japanese submarines stayed with the survivors in small boats until another Russian vessel picked them up and landed them at Dairen, in Japanese-leased territory at the tip of the Kwangtung Peninsula, south of Manchuria.

The Soviet announcer said that the Angarstroi first was halted by Japanese warships April 24 at a point 130 miles off Japan, and then escorted to a Japanese port for inspection.

Later the Russian ship was released, and the ship was homeward bound when torpedoed.

"From the circumstances of the sinking," the announcer said, "it appears that the Angarstroi was sunk by a Japanese submarine."

Multitude of Civil Servants In Ottawa Now

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—The Government is paying 35,000 people $70,560,000 annually to do its work in the capital, the Civil Service Commission revealed today. From a pre-war figure of 11,000 employees—exclusive of casual workers—with a payroll of $22,176,000, the Government service here has more than tripled.

TWO INTERNEES KILLED IN CAMP

Others Wounded When Bomb Dropped by Unidentified Plane, Vichy Reports

VICHY, June 25 (AP).—Two internees were killed and a number of others were wounded when an unidentified plane dropped a bomb which landed in a cluster of concentration camps at Royallieu, near Compiegne, today.

This is in the German-occupied zone of France, about forty miles north of Paris.

The cluster of camps where the bomb landed consists of German concentration centres for persons of various nationalities, interned for a variety of reasons.

There was no information immediately available as to which camp was hit.

It was possible that the plane was a British bomber which mistook its objective during a sweep over the continent.

TAKES COMMAND OF U.S. FORCES

Maj.-Gen. Dwight Eisenhower at Head of Americans in the European Theatre

LONDON, June 25 (CP).—Maj.-Gen. Dwight Eisenhower has arrived in Britain and has taken command of the European theatre for the United States armed forces.

Eisenhower conferred with Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt on Monday before leaving for Britain.

Eisenhower was expected to start conferences soon with Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, Chief of General Staff, and other military chieftains on welding American and British armies for offensive action.

He had conferred with them in a previous visit to London which ended early this month.

Eisenhower has been in close contact with Lord Louis Mountbatten, chief of the commandos.

MORE TROOPS IN ENGLAND

Thousands of Canadians Land in Old Country to Join Comrades

A BRITISH PORT, June 25 (CP).—Thousands of Canadian soldiers from a score of formations across the Dominion arrived in Britain today to add more power to the mighty army preparing to invade the continent.

Less exuberant than most arrivals, but as keen as their predecessors to end the war quickly, the soldiers crossed the Atlantic in a troop convoy, which also brought Canadian airmen, firemen, nursing sisters, British and Honduras technicians and members of the Royal Netherlands Army.

Fair weather helped speed the crossing and an escort of United States warships gave the transports such splendid protection that none of those aboard reported hearing so much as one depth bomb exploding.

MANY FORMATIONS

A Royal Canadian artillery medium regiment with batteries drawn from Nova Scotia and British Columbia, service corps formations, a general hospital unit from the Pacific Coast and ordnance, infantry, armored and forestry troops comprised the bulk of the contingent, third to arrive in Britain in the last six weeks.

Rear-Admiral Sir Arthur Bromely welcomed the arrivals on behalf of the Dominions Office and officials of the British Fire-Fighting Service greeted the firemen, first large contingent to arrive.

Some were coming to Britain for the first time. Others were here in the first Great War, while a few were returning for the second time in this war.

All wanted to know immediately how the battle in Libya was progressing and expressed the hope that the fall of Tobruk would not delay

JAPANESE UNRULY WHEN WAGES LATE

Delay in Issuing Cheques Cause of Disorders in Jasper Park Area Camp

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—Sixteen Japanese, reported to have been the ringleaders in minor disorders at road-building camps in the Jasper area, are being held in the Canadian immigration shed here.

Major Howard Mellor, spokesman for the British Columbia Security Commission, said today the outbreaks appear to be an organized move to cause trouble in protest against separation from families and tardiness in receiving pay cheques.

The most recent outbreak was at Gosnell Camp, in the Jasper area, when the men dropped their tools and went to Red Sand, contrary to orders.

The Japanese had grounds for unrest in that there were delays in issuing pay cheques, the security commission official said. Pay cheques arrived from camps late, and it was necessary to arrange payment to dependents as well as to workers. The staff in charge of this work has been augmented, and cheques are now being issued promptly, Major Mellor said.

At present, 130 Japanese are interned at the Canadian immigration detention shed.

RUSSIANS FALL BACK IN KHARKOV SECTOR; SEVASTOPOL IN RUIN

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

LONDON, June 25.—First clashes between Rommel's forces and British troops have taken place on the Egyptian frontier, but as yet there is no indication of any major battles impending. The Australian correspondent of The Times in the Western Desert says the Germans are doing little as yet. They have only small forces around Fort Capuzzo, and at Sollum nothing at all.

However, The Times' military correspondent thinks if Rommel is going again to attack he will do so immediately, as he is no man to waste time and allow the British side fully to reorganize. It will be especially necessary to watch for parachute troops in the neighborhood of Halfaya Pass.

Nasha Pasha, Egyptian Premier has announced he has received assurances British forces will defend Egyptian territory to the limit. No request has been made to the Egyptian Government to mobilize or participate in the war.

On the question of a vote of no confidence in Premier Churchill's Government that back bench Members of Parliament, of all parties, intend to propose when the Premier returns from Washington, The Times' parliamentary correspondent says Sir John Wardlaw-Milne and his colleagues are finding less support than they expected for their direct challenge.

Members want to put searching questions, but, in general, would prefer not to attempt to raise the general censure issue. The Labor Party as a whole would support the Premier while pressing for the fullest inquiry into the cause of the loss of Tobruk.

The Times' aeronautical correspondent says when the news of the wonderful work of the Royal Air Force in Libya comes to be known, it will disclose one of the finest achievements of that incomparable body.

RALLY BEHIND THEIR LEADER

Non-Confidence Motion in British Parliament Brings Amendment to Fore

LONDON, June 25 (CP).—Government supporters rallied quickly behind Prime Minister Churchill tonight after twenty critics of Mr. Churchill's war direction had introduced a non-confidence motion in the House of Commons.

Four Conservatives and a National Unionist signed an amendment to the insurgents' motion, pledging "unqualified support" to Mr. Churchill, and members predicted the Government would beat down the condemnatory motion after bitter debate.

The insurgents, however, were confident that the vote would show many Conservative abstentions and a growing lack of faith in the Prime Minister's strategical judgment, particularly in consequence of the British defeat in Africa.

The debate will take place after Mr. Churchill returns from America. It may be preceded by a general shakeup in the fighting services which will disarm many critics. One suggestion heard now is that Mr. Churchill appoint a chief of combined general staff to direct all British strategy.

Says Station German Fake

LONDON, June 25 (CP).—Radio Orange, the Netherlands Government station in London, tonight branded the self-styled Dutch freedom radio station which announced its existence last night as a Nazi fake.

The new station called itself the "Nutcracker" and its first appearance Wednesday night was on the wave length of the Hilversum radio station operated in Holland by the Nazis, after Hilversum went off the air.

It failed to broadcast as scheduled Thursday night, the counter-propaganda bureau of the B.B.C. said.

Enemy Suffering Huge Losses in Fierce Battles—Soviet Announces Withdrawal From Railway Junction—Inner Lines of Crimean Fortress Still Intact After Heavy Shelling

MOSCOW, June 26 (Friday) (AP).—Falling back again before the hammer blows of what appears to be a full-fledged German offensive in the Ukraine, the Russians early today announced the loss of the railway junction city of Kupyansk, sixty miles southeast of Kharkov.

The Soviet Bureau of Information announced that while the defenders of Sevastopol beat off continuing heavy enemy attacks yesterday, the hard-fighting soldiers of the Ukraine struggled against "advancing German Fascist troops."

The German drive in the Kharkov sector thus went into its fifth day with the Russians announcing for the first time in weeks the loss of an important town to the Nazis.

USING HUGE FORCE

Kupyansk, the Thursday midnight communique said, was abandoned only after "fierce fighting" against the invaders, who have been using hundreds and hundreds of tanks in this region, pouring them into the battle in waves to support huge forces of infantry troops.

The Russians fell back only after inflicting huge losses on the Nazis, who here, as at Sevastopol, were pushing the battle relentlessly regardless of the cost.

Kupyansk is forty miles north of Lizzyum, the northern end of the Izyum-Barvenkova line, the area in which the Russians this Spring thwarted a German push toward Rostov by launching their own surprise offensive.

DRIVING FOR OIL

This German drive toward the coveted oil-filled Caucasus now may have started, with the Germans apparently trying to swing around north of Russian positions in the Izyum area.

Kupyansk also is on the Oskol River, which flows into the Donets.

The German High Command on Thursday mentioned for the first time that it had launched an offensive in the Kharkov area, agreeing with Soviet reports that it was launched Monday.

RAID NAZIS "IN FORCE"

Royal Air Force Bombers Strike Hard at German Targets

LONDON, June 26 (Friday) (CP).—R.A.F. bombers struck "in force" at targets in Germany during the night, it was stated authoritatively today.

This marked the first attack on Germany since Monday night when Emden was blasted. Since then bad weather had kept the big bombers grounded until last night.

Official circles declined to say whether the raid was on the scale of the four-figure attacks on Cologne, May 30, and Essen, June 1, but the use of the words "in force" in a brief authoritative statement was taken as indication that the number exceeded the totals on various night attacks recently on Emden and other points.

In the Cologne attack a total of 1,130 planes took part; 1,036 were used in the Essen raid two nights later. Since then more modest forces of perhaps 200-300 have been used.

SWEEP OVER CHANNEL

British fighter planes made a sweep over the Western Channel last night (Thursday) and attacked enemy shipping off the coast of Brittany. Two of the attacking planes are missing.

Damage at two Midland towns attacked Wednesday night with heavy explosive and incendiary bombs was disclosed to have been fairly extensive. Villages near the attacked industrial centres suffered widely from the fire bombs.

The Berlin radio claimed Thursday that the Birmingham area was the region attacked in this raid.

CHURCHILL SENDS WARM GREETINGS

Prime Minister Unable to Visit Canada During Present Trip To America

WASHINGTON, June 25 (CP).—Prime Minister Churchill will not be able to visit Canada during his present trip, it was announced here today by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

The Canadian Prime Minister said he invited Mr. Churchill to go to Ottawa a few hours after the arrival of the British leader in Washington a week ago, but because of pressure of business here and the brevity of his trip Mr. Churchill could not accept.

"He sent his warm greetings through me to the Canadian people and to my colleagues in Ottawa," Mr. King declared.

The Canadian Prime Minister, here to attend a special meeting of the Pacific War Council, said he found Mr. Churchill "looking extraordinarily well."

"I was surprised to find how well he looks and he is in excellent spirits.

"The same thing is true of President Roosevelt. In fact, I think they both are looking better than when Mr. Churchill was here last January."

U-Boat Sunk By Freighter

SYDNEY, Australia, June 25 (AP).—Members of the crew of a Russian freighter said today that their guns sank an attacking submarine, presumably Japanese, which attacked their ship off the East Coast of Australia recently.

The freighter's master and two crewmen were wounded.

ARMY BUILDING HIT BY BLAST

Explosion at Installation in Newfoundland Announced From Ottawa

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—National Defence Headquarters announced late tonight it had received word of an explosion somewhere in Newfoundland resulting in "injuries to army and contractors' personnel."

Location of the blast was not given out here. National Defence Headquarters said only that it occurred at an army installation.

The information reached Defence Headquarters in the following communication from the general officer commanding Canadians in Newfoundland, Maj.-Gen. L. F. Page:

SOME INJURED

"Information has been received that an explosion occurred at an army installation on June 25 resulting in injury to army and contractors' personnel and some damage to contractors' buildings.

"Full details have not yet been received of the cause and no details of casualties can be released until next of kin have been informed in Canada.

"Cause of the explosion is considered to be entirely accidental."

RAISE THE AGES FOR REGISTRATION

Britain Making New Drive to Mobilize All Able-Bodied Men And Women

LONDON, June 26 (Friday) (AP).—Britain today ordered registration of all men up to fifty and all women up to forty-five in a new drive to mobilize all able-bodied citizens for war industries.

Previous top age limits on registration have been forty-five for men and forty-one for women.

The Ministry of Labor reported that many married women in the new registration would be called on for local part-time work, releasing younger women for war industrial jobs or the uniformed auxiliary services.

CAPTURED AT TOBRUK

CAIRO, June 25 (AP).—It was disclosed officially tonight that Maj.-Gen. H. B. Klopper, commander of the Second South African Division and general officer commanding the Tobruk garrison, was captured when that port surrendered last Sunday.

Japanese Fired On Fleeing Civilians

June 3 Raid on Dutch Harbor Told by Evacuees Arriving at Seattle — Total of Deaths Is Not Disclosed

SEATTLE, June 25 (AP).—First eyewitness accounts of the Japanese bombing of Dutch Harbor, in the Aleutians, made public today, revealed how heavy anti-aircraft fire and even rifle fire drove off the attackers, and how the Japanese machine gunners strafed fleeing civilians "like rats in a trap."

Civilians among the ninety-eight persons from Unalaska (Dutch Harbor is in Unalaska Bay) evacuated to Seattle aboard an army transport told interviewers that a Japanese fighter pilot strafed 250 civilians as they fled to the bare rocky hills for safety.

MAYOR TAKES CHARGE

A housewife told how Unalaska's mayor—John W. Fletcher—who accompanied the evacuees here, directed the flight of five truck loads of women and children to the hills when the Japanese bombers and fighter planes came over.

How many Japanese planes were downed has never been announced officially, and tales brought here by civilians and service men, many of the latter wounded, failed to clarify that point in accounts approved by the navy.

Mayor Fletcher said application was made for thirty-five death certificates after the June 3 bombing and strafing, but the total American casualty lists also have not been made public.

Joseph Wynans of Des Moines, Wash., said the fleeing civilians, running toward the ravines, threw themselves on the ground as one Japanese plane swooped toward them, and the strafer failed to hit a single one though his tracer bullets kicked up spurts of dirt and pebbles all around.

"AN AWFUL FEELING"

"It's an awful feeling you get," Wynans said. "You're like a rat. You can't move. You're cornered. You don't dare move because if you started to move, they shot you with machine guns."

"It was the loudest racket I ever heard," said Ivan Tallman, third cook aboard the bullet-pocked transport, telling how the transport's crew stood on deck and blazed away at the attackers while gun crews pumped deadly umbrellas of anti-aircraft fire above the harbor.

"If the people could only realize the horror of a bombing," said Mayor Fletcher, motion picture operator at Unalaska, who came south to confer with the Federal Bureau of Indian Affairs on evacuation of natives from the area. He said the natives were "shaking like leaves" after the attacks.

me and other critics of the Government to a concentration camp only confirms the fears of some people that we are soon to have, if we have not already got, a dictatorship in this country," Dr. Bruce said.

"In fact, does not the announcement yesterday of the action launched against Col. Drew point in the same direction?"

Lt.-Col. Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, was served with a summons Wednesday, charging that statements he made on the Hongkong Commission report of Chief Justice Sir Lyman P. Duff constituted an offence against the Defence of Canada Regulations.

In the debate on June 18, Mr. Crerar said he sometimes thought it would be a good thing if it were possible to take "the leaders and the sub-leaders and the sub-sub-leaders" of two groups—those which would impose conscription for overseas immediately and those which would send no man beyond Canadian shores—to "some comfortable island for the duration of the war." He said he would perhaps nominate Dr. Bruce as the medical director-general of the island.

In response to protests, Mr. Crerar added that his remarks constituted only "a little banter."

CALLED TO ORDER

As several Government members called "order!" Speaker James Glen rose and said that any reference to a matter before the courts was not in order.

Dr. Bruce went on: "I would simply add that I consider, as many others do, that the methods of the Gestapo were brought into play and displayed for the observation of this country yesterday. However, if it is a crime for a man to try to find out what caused our troops to be sent unarmed and untrained to Hongkong, then there is some explanation of what took place yesterday."

Mr. Mitchell said conscription of wealth now is an "inescapable reality." There was not much more to conscript. In the postwar period he believed Canada would be so organized that want could be abolished.

The level of war production must be maintained, but the question must soon be faced as to how long Canada could continue to increase both the number of men in the armed forces and war production.

The Labor Minister said there was particular need for men in the heavy industries, and if production were to be maintained and increased further attention would have to be given this basic industry in which few women could be employed.

RESERVES DWINDLING

"Figures show the reserve of available labor is almost entirely depleted," said Mr. Mitchell.

The unemployment figures represented an "all-time low."

Women would have to replace men in many occupations.

The stage was set to guide workers from non-essential to essential industries, the minister said.

With the intelligent co-operation of farmers, Mr. Mitchell said, "I am confident that the farm labor problem can be alleviated."

As the labor situation tightened in Canada, the minister said, he would be prepared to "recommend whatever measures of direction, compression and control as may be necessary to maintain the supply of labor.

He said he could assure the House that nothing the Government might do would permanently imperil the individual rights which have been handed down to Canadians.

"I hope when this war is over we will be able to restore the freedom of the individual to the utmost degree," he said.

Dr. Bruce said if the Government had introduced conscription in 1940 it would have been accepted by Quebec. He believed French-Canadians were as loyal as other Canadians but had been placed in a false position due to the "perverse education" they received at the hands of politicians.

Robbed Old Man; Gets Three Years

PORT ARTHUR, June 25 (CP).—Convicted on a charge of robbery with violence, Patrick Delaney, who told police he was born in the Peace River District, was sentenced to three years in penitentiary and five strokes of the lash here today.

Delaney was convicted of robbing Peter Loftstrom at MacDiarmid, on Lake Nipigon, June 14, and of robbing John Bidgood, ninety-two-year-old Toronto commercial traveler, in Port Arthur.

SAYS YARDS NOT READY

Shipyard Conference Claims Men Not Opposing Seven-Day Week

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—The joint shipyard trade conference, claiming to represent the majority of British Columbia's 20,000 shipyard workers, declared in a brief released here tonight that it does not oppose the principle of seven-day production in the yards, but reiterated its stand that Pacific Coast yards are "not yet ready" for such a scheme.

The brief, outlining reasons for the conference's opposition to the seven-day plan proposed by the Government and proposing its own substitute plan, will be presented to Labor Minister Mitchell tomorrow at Ottawa by a conference delegation which left here by plane yesterday.

Blacksmiths and machinists are at present on strike from three British Columbia yards in protest against the Government's institution of a seven-day, continuous production in their yards. The blacksmiths are represented in the conference delegation and the machinists have sent their own delegate along with the conference body to Ottawa.

DEPENDS ON SHIPS

The brief states that the conference is aware that victory may depend on the building of ships but said "the Government programme was introduced prematurely, and that it should be revised until such time as a proper and lasting foundation has been laid upon which a genuine continuous production programme can be successfully operated."

The conference brief states that the Government's continuous production programme has caused a 35 1-2 per cent increase in man-hours at the yards, and, although production has increased, it had not increased in proportion to the increase in man-hours.

Some work in the yards requires continual attention by the same skilled men, and this cannot be accomplished under the continuous production programme where hours are staggered so that one-seventh of the total employees in any given yard are always absent on their day off, the brief said.

MADE SACRIFICES

Other points against the seven-day production programme, said the brief, is that it does not allow time for repairing machinery breakdowns and feeling of the shipyard workers is that they "have made sacrifices for no useful purpose."

Attached to the brief is the conference's counter-proposal for a six-day, eighteen-shift week, with a weekly holiday from 4:30 p.m. Saturdays until 4:30 p.m. Sundays.

"This plan is not submitted in the spirit of 'take it or leave it'," the conference brief said. "We do not say our plan is the only one. We merely say that the existing situation in the yards is seriously hampering production; that a new plan is needed; and that we have worked out one which we sincerely believe to be practical. Any other plan suggested, of course, will receive our most careful consideration."

drive is using recently-captured British and American tanks. The invading Axis column also includes a number of French tanks.

Much other war booty also is being used. The Germans are using captured trucks after making no alteration except to paint a swastika on the tops.

EXPECT AIR ATTACK

British authorities fully anticipate that as soon as Rommel's main force comes in contact with the Eighth Army, there will be an airborne attack from Crete by German parachute and glider troops. The objective of such an attack may well be the great naval station at Alexandria.

In large measure, therefore, British hopes of holding the enemy short of Alexandria and the Nile Basin were pinned on getting substantial air reinforcements.

Enemy communiques claimed the Axis is in possession of Sidi Barrani, easternmost city attained by the Italians in 1940 and from which they were ejected by Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's small army in December of that year.

CLAIM POSTS TAKEN

Berlin and Rome also claimed the occupation of the frontier posts of Salum, Halfaya Pass and Fort Capuzzo on the border.

British official dispatches announced that Rommel's army, moving in at least three columns and with much truck-borne infantry, advanced across the border through gaps in the much battered barbed wire originally strung by the Italians between Sidi Omar and Fort Maddalena, from twenty to fifty miles south of the coast.

You can't go "ALL-OUT" If you feel "ALL-IN"

These days most people are working harder, worrying more, sleeping less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living lowers resistance—increases body and mental fatigue. Overwork; hasty meals; irregular hours; worry—any of these may upset proper kidney action.

When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and poisons remain in the system. Then backache, headache, rheumatic pain, disturbed rest or that "tired-all-the-time" feeling may soon follow. To help keep your kidneys in good order—to help guard against physical let-down—use Dodd's Kidney Pills, for over half a century a favourite remedy for faulty kidneys. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. Look for the blue box with the red band. 126

SCHOOL GIRLS TO SAVE CROP

Strawberry Pickers Quartered in Gymnasium of Mission High School

MISSION, June 25 (CP).—Seventy-five school girls, first contingent of an army of hundreds of boys and girls who will help save the Fraser Valley's berry crop, are hard at work in the fields here plucking the over-ripe, neglected strawberries.

The pickers are quartered in the gymnasium of Mission High School. They sleep on straw-filled palliases, and for many of them this is their first job, certainly the first away from home. A few have picked berries before, and a very small number are experienced workers, like the Vancouver girl who has picked berries each Summer for three years. In the Winter she works as a domestic, but in the Summer she takes to the berry patches for a healthful, profitable two months.

Last year, she picked an average of 115 to 150 pounds of berries daily from June 22 to August 7, paid 50 cents a day for board and cleared $26 in the forty-six days. She expects to pick more berries here, and at higher prices.

A high school diet kitchen is being used as a dining hall and cookery. Miss Dorothy Tate, of Victoria, an employee of the Provincial Board of Health, was on hand at Mission to check over health and hygienic arrangements. Before leaving Vancouver, the seventy-five girls had been examined by the city health officer. Here they will be inspected periodically by the district nurse.

Mission is the first centre opened with the co-operation of the Provincial Government and municipal officials. Other centres are being prepared. Growers will call for pickers daily, and take them in cars and trucks to the fields. Boys and girls will live in separate centres, and work at different farms.

The Chinese have won important successes against the Japanese in Kwangsi and cut off one claw of the Japanese pincer. The object at present in the Japanese operations appears to be to get control of the Hunan-Kwangsi railway so as to use it for through traffic in war supplies from Korea to Malaya.

Editorially, The Times says the Japanese are also trying to seize every Chinese airdrome from which air attacks might be lodged against Japanese cities. As well as control of the railway southward, the enemy also plans control of traffic lines through the Middle Yangtze so as to be able to move troops more easily into Manchukuo.

As for further bombing of Tokio, The Times says it is a feat that cannot be frequent, but it might be possible again by using British bombers in India, flown to Chinese airfields to bomb Japanese cities in that direct fashion.

However, such raids at present can be no more than an occasional diversion. The main object of the United Nations at the moment ought to be reduction of Japanese ships and restoration of communications between India and China.

CROSBY EARNING HIGHEST SALARY

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 (AP). — Crooner Bing Crosby received $300,000 from Paramount Pictures last year to rank among the highest paid persons in the United States.

Crosby augmented his picture income with $100,640 from Decca records and an undetermined amount from his radio programme. His earnings put him second behind Louis B. Mayer, production director of Loew's, Inc., who was paid $704,426, annual reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission disclosed today.

Just behind Crosby in picture earnings were Fred MacMurray, $299,333, and Bob Hope, $294,166, both of Paramount, which also paid George C. De Sylva $49,245 as a share of gross receipts.

Berlin-Made Smokes Given

A GULF PORT, June 25 (AP).—Cigarettes made in Berlin were among the souvenirs shown around today by survivors of several ships torpedoed in the Caribbean recently.

Cork-tipped and packed in fancy boxes, they had been passed out freely to several lifeboats by Axis submarine commanders.

Translators said each box bore a numbered coupon and for six with the number 15 one could get a picture of Adolph Hitler.

Chuckled one sailor who found No. 15:

"Maybe if I keep to sea, I'll get five more. Then I'm going to wrap up the six and ask General Doolittle to deliver them in Berlin for me—tied to one of them 1,000-pound bombs."

GERMANS CRUSH CZECH VILLAGE

All Males in Lezaky Executed —Charged With Aiding Parachutists

LONDON, June 25 (CP). — The Czech community of Lezaky, in Bohemia, has been razed by the Nazis on the accusation that the villagers hid parachutists involved in the slaying of Reinhard Heydrich, "Protector" of Bohemia-Moravia, it was reported today in Budapest radio broadcasts heard by a Czech Government listener here.

MALES EXECUTED

The Vichy French News Service quoted the Prague announcement as saying that all the adult male population was executed. Lezaky was described as a community of about 100 inhabitants.

This was the second village wiped out by the Germans in vengeance for the death of Heydrich, the Germans having boasted June 10 they had slain the male population of Lidice, near Prague, sent the women to concentration camps and the children to "educational" institutions.

About 350 men faced the firing squads in that village.

The announcement charged the villagers with shielding from police the so-called "parachute agents" involved in the Heydrich "plot."

Other phases of the terrorizing of anti-Axis Czechs continued. The Budapest radio said that eighteen Czechs were sentenced to death at Prague yesterday, and twelve at Bruenn (Brno). The charges were not stated.

PLEA FOR PARDON

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP).—War Secretary Henry Stimson said today the War Department has taken no action on the plea of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, First Great War dodger, for a pardon to undertake military sevice. Bergdoll, who fled to Germany rather than serve in the last war, now is serving a sentence for his crime.

INTERNATIONAL ENDS SESSIONS

Delegates to Rotary Meeting At Toronto Hear United States Diplomat

TORONTO, June 25 (CP). — Peace plans should be formulated during the war, but when the conflict is over drafting of treaties should be deferred until wartime emotions have cooled off, Hugh Gibson, former United States diplomat, today told 8,000 delegates attending the closing session of Rotary International's thirty-third annual convention.

Mr. Gibson, one-time United States Ambassador to Belgium and Brazil, addressed the convention at a session featured by the presentation of Rotary's new president, Fernando Carbajal, of Lima, Peru; the election of vice-presidents and the board of directors, and a radio message from Lieut.-Col. Carlos Romula, a Rotarian on the staff of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, commander-in-chief of the United Nations in the Southwest Pacific.

VICE-PRESIDENTS

The new vice-presidents, selected by the board of directors, are J. Raymond Tiffany, of Hoboken, N.J., first vice-president; C. J. Steigler, of Zurich, Switzerland, second vice-president, and Armando Hammel, of Santiago, Chile, third vice-president.

Mr. Gibson urged consideration of peace plans now primarily because intelligent and informed public opinion will be needed before any plans can be successful. It will be a people's peace, as it is a people's war, and he held there must be complete understanding of the problems of peace-making and support for the governments undertaking the job.

"In addition there is the possibility that if we develop constructive plans for peace they might even help bring the war to an earlier, victorious end," he said. "For we must never lose sight of the fact that there are great masses of people in the enemy countries who have no stomach for this war, who are kept at it under the lash of dictatorship and under the threat that they have nothing to hope for from the peace, and might as well go on to the final decision of arms."

Canadian Air Units Operate in Alaska

Fighter and Bomber Squadrons Serving on Battle-front With United States Groups—Under American Operational Control

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—Canada has sent "several" fighter and bomber squadrons to the Alaskan area to help hold off the Japanese, but there can be no disclosure yet as to whether they have seen action against the enemy, Air Minister Power announced today.

In addition to these squadrons in Alaska, Canada's own Pacific defences have been "considerably" reinforced, Maj. Power said. Additional squadrons had been moved into strategic positions and new squadrons had been organized on the spot.

The Canadians in Alaska, operating from bases provided by the United States Army, are working under United States operational control, but there is a "completely unified command" all along the Coast and Canadian officials are constantly communicating with American authorities.

"For security reasons it is not yet possible to disclose whether our squadrons have yet engaged the Japanese in actual combat," the minister said in a statement.

SHARING TASKS

"But our men and our aircraft are there, assuming their full share of the task of thwarting Japanese encroachment in the Aleutians and Alaska."

Announcement that some Canadian airmen had gone to the Aleutians theatre was made some days ago at the Coast by Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of general staff and temporary commanding officer in charge of Pacific defences.

Gen. Stuart did not give any indication of the R.C.A.F. strength in the Aleutians and Maj. Power's statement today was the first disclosure that several complete units were in Alaska.

The Canadian squadrons — both fighter and bomber—are operating from Alaskan bases "in the closest harmony and co-operation with their United States comrades," Maj. Power said.

The Canadian squadrons have been provided with bases and ac-

Army.

UNDER U.S. CONTROL

"It is obviously essential that our units in Alaska are, for strategic reasons, under the operational control of the United States Command, but, of course, there is a completely unified command all along the Pacific Coast, and our general officer commanding the Pacific area (Lt. Gen. Kenneth Stuart) and our air officer commanding the Western Air Command (Air Vice-Marshal L. F. Stevenson) are in consultation with the United States authorities," Maj. Power said.

"So far as Alaskan operations are concerned there is a complete mingling of the R.C.A.F. and United States forces. It is, in very fact, a United Nations force.

"Not only have we sent squadrons into Alaska but we have been able considerably to reinforce our own Pacific air defences. Additional squadrons have been moved into strategic positions in the area and new squadrons have been organized on the spot.

SKILLED OFFICERS

"These squadrons, like those in Alaska, are manned largely by graduates of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan and include sufficient officers who have had operational service overseas to assure wise and experienced leadership."

One of the senior officers of the R.C.A.F. Command in Alaska is Wing Cmdr. G. R. McGregor, of Montreal, who recently returned from overseas where he was second in command of No. 1 R.C.A.F. Fighter Squadron during the Battle of Britain. In recognition of his exceptional service he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross in October and the following December assumed command of the squadron when the commanding officer, Sqdn. Ldr. E. A. McNab (now a group captain), entered hospital.

Another veteran of overseas operations who commands a unit in Alaska is Sqdn. Ldr. Dean Nesbitt, of Montreal. He led a flight of No. 1 Fighter Squadron in the Battle of Britain and later assumed command of a squadron. Sqdn. Ldr. E. M. Reyno, of Sidney, B.C., is a third officer with long experience in Britain who is leading a unit in co-operation with the United States forces. He went overseas first in June, 1940.

D.F.M. to Canadian Pilot

PILOT Officer B. C. Paige, of Bridgeport, Ont., is interviewed by a London reporter outside Buckingham Palace just after he had been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Medal for great courage and coolness in navigating a damaged aircraft to Britain after an attack on a convoy. Looking on is his brother, John. Another brother, Pilot Officer Ernest Paige, was recently awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

MORE TROOPS IN ENGLAND

the opening of a second front on the continent. As one gunner put it, "France is the place we want to go, and soon!"

Heading the largest complete unit aboard, an artillery group, was genial Col. V. McKenna, M.C., of Victoria.

"Our boys are mainly from the east or west coasts," he said, "and they chose me to head it because I know both parts of Canada. I live in Victoria, but I was educated at St. Francis Xavier University at Antigonish, N.S."

OTHER OFFICERS

Other officers in the unit from the west coast were Capt. H. J. Rose, Victoria; Capt. C. C. Covernton, Vancouver; Capt. W. P. Johnson, Prince Rupert; Lieut. K. M. Beckett, Vancouver; Lieut. R. Pattinson, Victoria; Lieut. A. R. Townsley, Vancouver—his father commands a unit already overseas—and Lieut. C. C. Locke, also of Vancouver.

From what Col. McKenna called "the in-between provinces" came Capt. C. D. Dyke, Calgary.

Both coasts were well represented in ordnance corps units, too. From the west had come Capt. J. D. Campbell, Vancouver; Lieut. K. P. Kempston, Victoria; and Lieut. S. Wallace, Vancouver.

Also making the trip were several honorary captains, chaplains for troops in England. They said they were glad of the opportunity to go overseas as they felt there was "a need" for them over there.

SOME WESTERNERS

Among Western gunners arriving were J. Scales, of Michel, B.C.; Robert Taylor, of Prince Rupert, B.C., and J. Coyle, of Lethbridge, Alta.

J. R. Colleran, of Kearney, N.J., who with two other R.C.A.S.C. non-commissioned officers, J. F. Sutherland and J. M. Montgomery, both of Toronto, was watching the mailbags being unloaded, was returning to Britain for the second time in this war. He spent the last year in Canada as an instructor.

He was glad to be back, he said, and his sentiments were echoed by Q.M.S. H. J. Mace, of Toronto, who was in England twenty-six months with a Toronto General Hospital unit before going to Canada four months ago as an instructor in a West Coast hospital.

"Canada's all right these days if you've a civilian job," said Mace, "but this is the only place for a man in uniform."

The French Canadian Service Corps officer was Lieut. R. Durand, of Loretteville, Que., while English officers included Captains Bill Bower, of Ottawa, and A. J. Labrie, of Montreal.

There were twins in the ordnance group, part of which is going to a non-divisional workshop in Southern England. They are Privates Cecil and Harold Lambertus, of Montreal.

Sergt. Ian MacDonald, of Winnipeg, another ordnance man, was engaged in a long conversation with Capt. F. M. Joy, of Bracebridge, Ont., one of the seven chaplains aboard, when the boat docked. Capt. Joy's most recent charge was at Halifax, preceded by service at an internment camp in Northern Ontario.

GOING TO WOODS

Bound for Scotland were the hardy Foresters. Most of them, like Pte. R. C. Buckman, of Fort Steele, B.C., worked as lumberjacks in civil life.

Infantry reinforcements came from all sections of Canada. Ptes. Livain Michaud, of Pokesubi, N.B., and Julien Barrette, of Montreal, are joining the Chaudiere Regiment, while the Lorne Scots are represented by Pte. W. R. McLean, of Niagara Falls, Ont., and the Highland Light Infantry by Ptes. F. R. Jabokwan and R. A. Hughson, both of Manitowaning, Ont.; Forbes Gill and J. Lowe, of St. Catharines, Ont., and Earl Smith, of Saskatoon.

The husky Provost Corps recruits included L.-Cpl. H. J. Bryant, of Calgary, and Ptes. J. A. McCormick and Ralph Ashton, both of Moose Jaw.

Lieuts. W. P. McGuire and R. E. Fraser were among the Calgary Highlander reinforcements, and Pte. Hugh Johnston, of Vancouver, wearing the shoulder patch of the Irish Fusiliers, was a recruit for the Seaforths.

The Westminster Motor Regiment reinforcements also included some Irish Fusiliers, among them Ptes. R. G. Doucet, of Vancouver, and W. H. W. Breeden, of West Vancouver. Doucet, a native of France, arrived in Canada with the outbreak of war and said that one of the things he hopes most to do is to return to France in civilian clothes to see if he can find his relatives.

His parents live in Vancouver, but his grandmother and other relatives live at Nantes.

VETERANS' GUARD

In addition to active troops, there was a contingent of the Veterans' Guard. These old soldiers, with service ribbons on their tunics, included Ptes. P. W. Runcier, of Kelowna, B.C.; E. Radstrom, of Swan River, Man., and G. L. Burton, Ottawa.

Most of the nursing sisters for the general hospital unit were from the West Coast, but there also were a number of reinforcements for hospitals already established in Britain. Among them were Ruth McKinnon, of Cupar, Sask., a physiotherapy aide, and Nursing Sister Margaret Thompson, of Edmonton.

In the Western group were Grace Noble, Marion Duff, Mary Ivatt and Ellen McQueen, all of Vancouver, and Margaret Wallbank, of Nanaimo, B.C.; Ruth Wilson, of Victoria, and Marion Smith, of Lloydminster, Sask.

JUST A HABIT

Farmer (anxiously)—"What do you mean by it, madam? I give you permission to pitch your tent in my meadow and you are careless enough to leave the gate open and let my cattle out."

Lady Camper—"I'm awfully sorry. It's my husband, you know; he always sleeps with his bedroom door open."

the encouraging survey of the war on all fronts that had been made by Mr. Churchill and Mrs. Roosevelt. The British Prime Minister was quoted by Congressional sources—he saw them earlier—as expressing the opinion that Egypt would be saved.

Walter Nash, New Zealand Minister, said he was convinced, not only from facts and figures given in the council meeting but from his own knowledge, that Cairo would never be taken and that Egypt would be saved.

Nash also said that a second front in Europe was referred to in general terms by the two leaders—general terms such as the amount of men, shipping and guns that will be required.

MANY TOPICS

The Canadian Prime Minister said he discussed many topics with various people while in Washington, and intimated that Japanese occupation of the Outer Aleutians was one.

He said he had discussed with no one and had heard no discussions about reports that Lieut.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton might be named supreme commander of United Nation forces on any European invasion front.

He said Canadian airmen and anti-aircraft gunners have been co-operating with American forces in the defence of Alaska, but he declined to disclose the size of the units.

"Our troops are ready to serve where they can serve most effectively and that is a decision to be made by military authorities," he said, when asked if Canadian units overseas could be used to fight in any battle zone.

COMPREHENSIVE REPORT

The congressional group spent forty minutes with Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt, and half of that time was devoted to receiving an uninterrupted report of war developments and prospects from the Prime Minister. According to some of the conferees, he told them that:

The victories of the United States Army, Navy and Air Forces in the Pacific have made it easier to defend the military supply routes to India and the Middle East.

The congressmen left the White House unanimously saying that the report given them was pleasing. Much of the information given them, they said, had to be regarded as a military secret.

D. D. Graham Had Lived Here More Than Fifty Years

The death occurred at the Royal Jubilee Hospital on Friday, June 19, of Donald Denley Graham, 1709 Cook Street, aged eighty-three years. Mr. Graham was born in London, England, and had been a resident of this city for the past fifty-three years. He was a member of Victoria Lodge No. 1, I.O.O.F.

Besides his widow, Anna, he is survived by two sons, Gordon E., of Portland, Ore., and Gerald D., of Los Angeles.

A DOUBTFUL OUTLOOK

There is no longer a Libyan campaign. The North African war has developed into an invasion of Egypt with a drive by Axis forces whose first main objective will doubtless be the capture of the British naval base at Alexandria, and the second, the occupation of the Suez Canal area. It is conceivable that the enemy's strategy foresees the possibility that if the British Fleet were forced to abandon Alexandria as a base it would set up its headquarters at Malta and there it would always be vulnerable to attack from the air. While Malta has been subjected to persistent and heavy air raids, conducted over a long period, no major attempt has yet been made by the Axis Powers to invade the island. If, however, through the campaign in Egypt, the British Mediterranean Fleet were forced to base its operations on Malta then the opportunity would present itself of an all-out attack from the air by planes based on Sicily. The British, to continue to control the waters of the Eastern Mediterranean, must have a base than can be stoutly defended. It has yet to be proved if this is possible in the case of Alexandria were that port, as Singapore was, attacked from the landward side.

The developing situation in the Near East is one that presents many dangerous possibilities. It has been made possible by a number of happenings. Perhaps the chief of these was the entry of Japan into the war. With Japan's conquest of Malaya, the Dutch East Indies and the Philippines the threat to Australia became very real. As a consequence the Australian troops were withdrawn from Libya for the defence of their homeland. With them was withdrawn, as well, much equipment, and the Eighth Army became considerably reduced in potential fighting power. When danger developed in the Far East Great Britain had to send troops, naval craft and air reinforcements to Malaya, to India and elsewhere and there was a pause if not a cessation in the flow of reinforcements and mechanical equipment to the Near East. Japan thus, in a measure at least, made General Rommel's successful drive possible, a drive which has led to the ousting of the British from Libya and the fall of Tobruk. Now, realizing the depletions that have occurred in the ranks of the Imperial Forces in Africa, the Axis Powers have launched a full-scale attack on Egypt, with the knowledge that they have not only numerical superiority in man-power but in mechanical equipment as well.

In the respects noted Japan is proving her value as an Axis partner for she has caused a dissipation of the strength of the Imperial Forces in North Africa. She caused a dissipation also of a part of British naval strength in the Mediterranean when warships were hurried to the abortive defence of Malaya and to stations in the Indian Ocean. In turn the European Axis Powers could render great aid to their Oriental ally by sealing the Suez Canal. These are all considerations that must be taken into account in estimating the dangers of the situation. Despite all assertions to the contrary the war has not, as yet, taken a turn in favor of the United Nations. On the contrary, they are facing problems as grave as any that have developed throughout the whole course of the war. It is not too much to say that the campaign in Egypt is a part and parcel of the present Axis onslaught on the Kharkov front and of the all-out effort to reduce Sevastopol. There is now no doubt that the strategy of the Axis Powers is to seize the Caucasus and to advance from there into Asia Minor where the hope is that a juncture will be effected with the forces of General Rommel.

The success of this strategy might well prolong the war for many years and, for the moment at least, there is no greater preoccupation for the United Nations than to blast the hopes of the Axis Powers to fulfil that purpose. What can be done in that respect is known only to the authorities, but what is becoming obvious is that swift action must be taken for experience has shown that in all his intentions the enemy does not pause or slacken in his will for conquest. It took him only a matter of days to reform and realign his forces after their successful coup in Libya and to thrust forward over sixty miles into Egypt. With mobile warfare what it is, swift decisions are reached. Within a few weeks what can only be regarded as an amazing change has come over the situation in the Mediterranean area where the strength of the United Nations had seemed to be growing more secure. The initiative has passed over to the Axis Powers and they give every indication of attempting to press home their present advantage with unremitting vigor. What is happening in Africa and on the southern flank of the Eastern Front should be a new clarion call to the United Nations telling them what still must be done and what redoubled efforts must be put forth both on the home fronts and in the fighting arenas.

HANDICAPS OF GAELIC LANGUAGE

Seemingly the attempt to impose the Gaelic language on Eire is proving a dismal failure. It is more than all a failure in broadening the educational facilities in the Irish Free State. A questionnaire sent to teachers in that land has disclosed the following, "that in the case of children whose home language is English—they do not receive the same benefits from instruction through Irish that they would receive had instruction been through English, and . . . it would be better from the point of view of the mental and physical development of the child that both languages, rather than Irish alone, should be used."

The symposium of opinion among the teachers is that it is "educationally unsound" to use any other language than the home language—which is to say English—in the teaching of arithmetic, geometry, algebra, history and geography. The opinion also is expressed that "there are, in fact, only two subjects, needlework and singing, which can be taught to advantage through the medium of Irish, and these are subjects which can normally be taught with very little attention to speech. The use of Irish in the teaching of arithmetic does not allow 'an equal grasp of numerical processes', and the language fails lamentably as a vehicle of instruction in mathematics among the senior grades." It is pointed out that in order to cover the history curriculum, "English is essential, while geography, as taught through Irish, cannot be other than a 'mass of names, figures and facts.' English is in general use for religious instruction, even where all other subjects are taught through Irish."

Perhaps the most striking part of the report on the subject is that the change from English in the home to Irish transfers the infant suddenly into "a new and unnatural world." It prevents the flourishing of interest which is, or ought to be, "the basis of all education, and tends to make his school life miserable. To a certain extent life in school for him is a life of repression, confusion and unhappiness. He is deprived of the child's normal right to 'spontaneous chatter'; his attempts at expression become feeble, 'if he does not take refuge in silence altogether'."

TOTAL WAR AND IDLENESS

In juxtaposition, two headlines appeared on the front page of this newspaper yesterday. One read; "Hitler Hurls Hordes of Infantry and Tanks at Sevastopol and Kharkov." The other caption was; "Off the Job in Three Shipyards." One recounted action on the most vigorous and devastating scale in the war. The other spelled idleness in the production of tonnage essential to the purposes of victory. Hitler must have his victories and the United Nations, it appears, must have their labor unrest. Perhaps it is, in part, because of the latter that the triumphs of the Axis Powers have been so impressive. The workshops and factories of the Third Reich, and those as well in occupied territories, produce, produce and produce to provide the Nazi armies with the overwhelming preponderance of mechanical equipment they enjoy in all their campaigns. Their shipyards, especially in the building of submarines, work continuously all day and every day of the week, and because they do the Nazi High Command is still able to point to a greater destruction of tonnage than the United Nations can replace.

There is more than a parable in the juxtaposition of the two headlines to which notice is directed. There is the sternest kind of warning that this struggle cannot be won without meeting total war with total effort. There is no total effort where men are "off the job" in any shipyard of this Dominion. Whatever the merits of the dispute between the shipbuilding employees and the Government, there is no dispute in this time of crisis that should lead to a cessation of work. That is giving comfort to the enemy. All those engaged on the home front of production for war needs must look beyond their own selfish interests to where their comrades are fighting and dying so that they may be saved from a serfdom in which there would be no trades unionism, no collective bargaining and no freedom.

FOILING THE ENEMY

The request of the united armed services for silence on "war-useful" information is a sound one and one that should be given the fullest possible compliance on the part of every member of the public. Little imagination is needed to show that scattered bits of information, harmless enough by themselves, may together disclose information of value to the enemy. This is particularly true in regard to the movement of ships, where lives are actually at stake.

That there is real need of the warning is well known to the public. Instance after instance of suppressed information getting to the street before official pronouncement has been made could be cited with but little reflection. Sometimes, when the information is retroactive, little damage is done. The same leakage can, however, disseminate word of plans and events that have yet to come. The only safe way is to refuse to join in the whispering.

The human agency of pride is sometimes to blame for disclosures. Men and women are proud of the work they are doing; so they talk about it, unguardedly. Sometimes it is boastfulness. Someone wants to show that he, or she, is in a special position of trust—in possession of facts not known to the public. Often it is mere garrulity, the wagging of a double-hinged tongue. Whatever the cause, the result can be seen all too frequently. The only cure is silence. Dont talk. The enemy has long ears.

SPEAK TO MY HEART THROUGH GARDENS

"Speak to my heart through gardens till I see
The shame of service rendered grudgingly;
Turn from the selfishness that could forget
A lifetime were too short to pay my debt.
Beholding how from bud to petal-fall,
Proud poppies flame with joy at giving all.

"Out of the grace of gardens, make me wise
To learn as larkspur mirrors mist-blue skies,
Here in my place, Thy holy ground, I, too,
May lift a life that as a mirror true
Reflects the beauty of that Blessed One
Who in a garden prayed, 'Thy will be done!'

"Teach me in dewy silences to know
On the pruned bush the loveliest roses grow,
That when the shears of sorrow shall be laid
Against my life, serene and unafraid,
A sturdier faith shall flower there and be
A richer crimson in my love for Thee."

—Molly Anderson Haley, in The Churchman.

"BUT FOR BRITAIN"

But for Britain, the war would be over now—at least so far as Europe is concerned—with democracy the loser. But for Britain the United States would today be facing a victorious Axis on two fronts, each two continents long, menaced by the Jap fleet on one side and by the combined German and Italian commandeered English and French fleets on the other.

But for Britain, that is, either Hitlerism would be triumphant over the whole earth, or, at best, we would be fighting it, unprepared, with no greater hope than to defend our own soil at the probable cost of complete exhaustion and bankruptcy.

Let those who are inclined to belittle Britain's performance in this war remember that for more than a year she held the fort absolutely alone and that, in all, she provided us with more than two years of grace in which to get ready to fight.—Los Angeles Times.

Becalmed along the azure sky,
The argosies of cloudland lie,
Whose shores, with many a shining rift,
Far off their pearl-white peaks uplift.

Through all the long mid-Summer day
The meadow-sides are sweet with hay.
I seek the coolest sheltered seat,
Just where the field and forest meet,—
Where grow the pine-trees tall and bland,
The ancient oaks austere and grand,
And fringy roots and pebbles fret
The ripples of the rivulet.

Japan—The Unknown Quantity

By W. E. G. CRISFORD

The erroneous assumption held by the majority of people on this North American Continent that Japan was hopelessly bogged down in China—"bleeding at every pore," as one great statesman remarked—and, therefore, could not render any appreciable aid to her Axis partners in the Pacific area, has been so ignominiously exploded that it has taken something in the nature of a national calamity to shake us out of this lethargic and complacent conceit.

The habitual attitude of "superiority complex," adopted by Occidentals toward colored people in general, has finally run up against a resentment which has crystalized into an active and terrible force and, today, we find ourselves face to face with a formidable foe who can and will translate that hatred and resentment into a national crusade of such magnitude the result of which may yet shake our civilization to its very foundations.

When we consider the Nazis and Fascist totalitarianism which forces the people to bow to the will of the State, and realize that this is mere kindergarten policy compared to what the Japanese nation is used to, we may get a faint idea of the dynamic possibilities of a people who, in spite of the veneer of Western civilization, aped by them since the beginning of the Meiji epoch, have never really emerged from an all-embracing feudalism which has owned and controlled them body and soul from time immemorial, dominated as they are from the cradle to the grave by a fanatical devotion to Japan and the God-Emperor.

When Japan emerged from her period of "isolation," the Western powers were able, on more than one occasion, to impose their will by sheer weight of armaments, and the contemptuous amusement indulged in by Occidental industrialists at the callow efforts of Japanes enterprises to enter the competitive field of world markets, was only equaled by the resentment on the part of the Japanese leaders which was rarely allowed to appear on the surface, but stored up for another Japanese "Der Tag."

A WARRIOR RACE

The privileges enjoyed by the Samurai caste right up to the time of the "Restoration" stamps this people as a warrior race, and let it be remembered, their seventeen thousand miles of coast line provides an almost inexhaustable supply of seafaring recruits for their navy. That the Japanese are also a nation of artists goes without question, and he who is not wilfully biased will agree that the fundamental attributes which go to the making of a true artist are patience, perseverance, application and the will to succeed. Let us not, therefore, lightly dismiss these great characteristics, for we also know it is in the genius of the Japanese to make much of slender resources, cradled as they have been for centuries in comparative penury.

That the Japanese are insatiably ambitious goes without saying, for when we recall that during the period between the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries, plans were laid for the conquest of Siam, the Philippines, Formosa, the Riu-Kiu Islands, Korea, China and even Southern Europe, we are reminded that this ambition is bounded only by the globe itself.

They consider themselves, also, divinely chosen to carry out such a mission, which strengthens their will to surmount every obstacle, endure any suffering and make any sacrifice which will enable them to realize their goal of world conquest.

Let us therefore compare the dynamic possibilities and adaptabilities of such a homogeneous people, with the heterogeneous racial groups that make up the sum total of this North American Continent. There Japan has unity of purpose; here we have labor strikes, sabotage, fifth columnists, espionage, racial prejudice, profiteering, labor dictatorship, inter-union disputes, and, last, but not least, patriotism at a price, or from motives of expediency, rather than duty. All this tending to undermine rather than cement the ideals of national unity.

Compare this to the subtle genius of the Japanese for sucking the brains of other nations, their unflinching pursuit of purpose, insatiable ambition, and unscrupulousness in the choice of means or agents to carry out their plans.

THOROUGHNESS

The fact that they employed Englishmen to superintend the building of railways, the erection of telegraphs and the construction of lighthouses, and the organization of the navy; Frenchmen to recast the laws and train the army in strategy and tactics and educational affairs; Americans to organize the postal service, improve agriculture, and colonization; Germans to teach medical science, the compilation of a commercial code, the elaboration of a system of local government, and ultimately the training of military officers. Even art was not neglected, for Italians were employed to give instruction in sculpture and painting. All this shows how discriminating and deliberate they can be before taking any step calculated to help them along the road which they consider will lead to the realization of their divine destiny.

It is not the purpose of the writer to chant a Saga of Japanese prowess, but rather to face facts and fundamentals which may help us to realize the nature and seriousness of the problem now confronting us.

Compare the vacillating policy of our Prime Minister to the fanatical patriotism of the Japanese. Can we afford this awful waste of time and disintegrating influence which allows the nursing of an ancient grudge during this period of our national crisis, while the evil forces of cunning, ruthless, barbarous fanaticism literally hammer at our very doors?

The march of events will one day show us the folly of thinking we can enjoy in perpetuity these wide open spaces and the fatal policy of making political capital by playing one end of the country against the other, while ambitious nations like the Japanese, during a period of sixty-five years, increased from thirty-five million to ninety million.

Can we, therefore, afford to indulge in the luxury of a party Government who prefers to pander to a minority group in order to remain in power, while the rest of the country is crying out for an all-out total war effort?

We of the democracies are now face to face with the greatest decision any free people have ever been called upon to make. We have to make one of two choices, either we rekindle the spirit of duty and self-sacrifice, real enough to burn itself into the very soul of rich and poor, high and low, humble and meek, so that it shines like a beacon light inspiring every man, women and child to go forward in unity of purpose, unity of strength, unity of duty and unity of sacrifice, pledging ourselves to fight on till victory is won, or become slaves to tyrants who would mock our dead, desecrate the very altars of our Christian faith and blot out our way of life forever!

Observation Car

By G. B.

Last Wednesday we noticed a delightful patch of grass growing on the sidewalk outside 1309 Government Street, proving the statement untrue that grass does not grow on a busy street . . . We thought the national defence tax was to help defend us, yet the A.R.P. has to ask the public for funds to purchase vital equipment . . . Yesterday we met a happy truck owner. He said he had purchased and fitted six new tires on his vehicle a few days before tires were frozen . . . Note from the poundkeeper, "I wish you would tell people not to let their dogs roam at large at night. I receive dozens of complaints about dogs running over victory gardens and flower beds and knocking over garbage cans to get a snack. People own dogs primarily for purposes of protecting their premises, so why shouldn't they keep them indoors at night? . . . Scalers, welders and other workmen repairing a Russian vessel at Seattle delivered the following message of congratulations to the ship's crew: "We, the workers on the Ss. ——, congratulate the Soviet people on the gallant defence of their homeland and wish to convey our appreciation for the sacrifices they are putting forth in the battle for the world-wide defeat of Fascism" . . . An air cadet on View Street recently had a hard job to keep from uproarious laughter when a woman with a tiny candid camera tried to secure a photograph of several of the smartly attired lads. The would-be photographer first held the camera sideways and then at several odd angles while she probed for the shutter release. Eventually, in her excitement, she held the lens against her face and probably secured a picture of a nose and a pair of eyes.

APPROVE DRIVERS

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of June 26, 1892)

Their First Meeting—The newly appointed Provincial Board of Horticulture held its first meeting in the Government Buildings yesterday, when steps were taken to start Inspector Hutcherson on his work. He will give special attention to fruit pests and their remedies and enemies, many of which are fully and ably described in the supplement to the third annual report of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, a pamphlet which should be in the hands of every fruit grower in the province.

Another Sawmill—Mr. Frank Lloyd, the well-known logger, has been in town for the last few days, and yesterday concluded negotiations for the purchase of a sawmill plant, which he hopes to have in operation this Fall. Mr. Lloyd and his camp are now engaged at the Indian Reserve, Chemainus, where they are felling some fine sticks. He hopes to turn out a bigger season's work than ever, and by the time his sawmill is in operation he will have a lot of stuff to be handled. He says that the various logging camps this year are very busy, and the timber out of excellent quality.

Adjourned for a Fortnight—The Temperance and Moral Reform Association met last evening in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, and adjourned for a fortnight, without transacting any special business.

PROFIT AND LOSS

Sir,—The enclosed was sent to me from England. The words are from an English paper. If you have space to print it in The Colonist I shall be grateful. In these days of unrest and great anxiety and grave concern we are passing through, we cannot but feel how this applies not only to those in the Old Country but to us, also in Canada.

D. M. OUTRAIN.

439 Admirals Road, Esquimalt, B.C.
June 24, 1942.

We have been a pleasure-loving people, dishonoring God's day by pleasure and excursions:

Now the seashores are barred, excursions stopped.

We have preferred motor travel to church-going:

Now there is a shortage of motor fuel.

We have ignored the ringing of the bells calling us to worship:

Now the bells cannot ring except to warn invasion.

We have left churches half empty when they should have been filled with worshippers:

Now many are in ruins.

We would not learn the way of peace:

Now we are forced to learn the way of war.

The money we would not give to the Lord's work:

Now is taken from us in taxes and higher prices.

Food for which we forgot to give thanks:

Now is unobtainable.

The service we refused to give to God:

Now is conscripted for the country.

Lives we refused to live under God's control:

Now are under the nation's control.

Nights we would not spend in "prayer watching":

Now are spent in "fire watching."

The evils of modernism we would not fight:

Now—see what Germany, the seat of this teaching, has produced.

"UNITY"

Sir,—The most abused word in Canada today is "Unity." Behind it shelter party politicians, procrastinators, secret agents, fifth columnists, anti-British elements, parochial isolationists, long-winded opportunists, blatant demagogues, feeble-minded unrealists and all those conscious and unconscious traitors to Canada, the Empire and civilization, who oppose conscription of manpower to fight our enemies wherever we can deliver the most effective blows.

Germans, Japanese and Italians must be highly edified at the course of debate taking place at Ottawa whilst they are straining every nerve to bring us into subjection.

The Government asked the people to vote "yes" on the plebiscite, knowing perfectly well that conscription for overseas service was and is necessary if we are to play our proper part in this world-wide war, but Quebec Province gave an emphatic "No" because, during every general election since 1917 the poor benighted habitant had been bedevilled by the bogey of conscription set up by unscrupulous politicians to win elections in that province.

The other eight provinces voted an emphatic "Yes." The issue was clear: "No" votes meant no conscription for overseas. "Yes" votes meant yes, we want conscription to fight anywhere.

Just as surely as Quebec voted against conscription the rest of Canada voted for conscription.

Immediately the result was known Premier King expressed gratification and said in effect that in a democracy the majority must rule, but most of the politicians of Quebec, threatening a break in the "party," forced him to pussyfoot in the interests of unity of the party, and now, unless public opinion in the rest of Canada demonstrates in no uncertain manner its expressed will is to be ignored and flouted until the dire necessity of reinforcing our gallant boys overseas forces the Government to wage the total war that has been talked so much about.

In effect we are told that in the interests of "Unity" the minority must rule Canada and the majority bow and yield to the howlings of the minority.

The parochial isolationists of Quebec are willing to go all out fighting the enemy in or on the coasts of Canada but will not go all out fighting to keep him away.

Pussyfooting politicians have prated too long about the unity of Canada and the defence of Canada. Our best defence is to be found in unity of the Empire—the British Commonwealth of Nations. As long as this Empire remains unconquered or not subdued and our allies remain in the fight, going all out as they are, this continent cannot be successfully invaded. Our enemies cannot successfully transport armies and equipment strong enough to make invasion possible. They know that and will not attempt such a disastrous enterprise.

Hit and run raids may come and go but will not win or lose the war. The war will be fought and won or lost in Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia, not in Canada, and if Britain and her allies go down to defeat may God help Canada! I don't think that He will because we will not deserve his powerful aid unless we do our utmost.

Quebec has intimidated our party Government. The rest of Canada would be well advised to promote strong demonstrations in favor of a National Government and compulsory service for everybody for fighting and working until victory is achieved.

The "I told you so" people who helped Quebec malcontents by abstaining from voting on the plebiscite should use their talents and energies in constructive criticism.

If and when we and our allies undertake to open up another war front by invading the Continent of Europe our gallant Canadian Army will be the spearhead of the invading forces, but it is a small army and is in urgent need of reinforcements. It is up to us to make our Government provide them. A National Government could not be intimidated by one province out of nine.

SPENCER PERCIVAL.

Port Washington, B.C., June 22, 1942.

SHEEP RAISING

Sir,—A paragraph in today's paper tells how Hon. K. C. Macdonald, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, has been at Fernie, adjuring the farmers there to raise sheep, pointing out that they should produce those things that find a home market.

Is the minister aware of the ruinous decline in the sheep industry right here on Vancouver Island, and the cause of it? Does he know that forty years ago some 25,000 sheep were raised in the southern half of Vancouver Island, and today there are less than 3,000?

If the worthy minister is unaware of this scandalous fact then he should lose no time in acquainting himself with statistics in the history of farming conditions in the province.

If he does know this fact and has not made obvious attempts to remedy the responsible conditions, then we contend that he is unfit to represent the cause of the farmers and should step aside in favor of someone who has the welfare of agriculture in British Columbia more at heart.

Continual raids by cougars, bears and stray dogs have caused many a sheep farmer to give up his flock. The bounty on cougars is so low that they are increasing. Bears are protected by the game laws, and there is penalty for shooting dogs unless actually caught in the act.

Last week close to Duncan a bear killed two ewes. The farmer shot the bear, but is liable to a heavy penalty for shooting game out of season.

This Island has become nothing but a game preserve for the pleasure of tourists and imitation sportsmen who like to shoot from a car, sitting down. But let the Minister of Agriculture and the Attorney-General remember that food is going to be scarce to the point of deprivation before long, and therefore, it is the farmer who should be protected, not the game or the sportsmen.

We seem to have heard a lot about Canada's war effort, but this wholesale destruction of crops and flocks allowed—indeed insisted upon—by provincial game laws looks more like effort in favor of the enemy forces.

Surely, Dr. MacDonald must have read about the serious shortage of wool in all countries? And surely he must realize that wool is as important as food to the fighting forces?

There is something dangerously insincere in a minister who advocates sheep raising in one part of the country, while a few miles from his head office he condones the slaughter and extermination of sheep by the thousand by his failure to insist upon immediate measures to stop the evil.

H. GLYNN-WARD.

R.R. 3, Victoria, June 24, 1942.

TOURISTS AND GASOLINE

Sir,—While listening to my radio tonight, I was astonished to hear the radio announcer over station KOL advise Americans to make a visit to Harrison Hot Springs, British Columbia, for their vacation, informing them that there would be "plenty of gas and oil when they got over the border for side trips."

This certainly came as a great surprise to me, as only this week my husband, who uses his car solely for business purposes, had to return his ration book and was told that after review he had been cut down to "A" category. Although this will work a hardship on us, as good citizens, who wish to help this war in every way we can, we are more than willing that this should be so, but when one hears that there is plenty of gas and oil for tourists to make side trips, it makes us feel that there is very little equality of sacrifice, and in view of the fact that our good neighbors over the border are having at this moment a nation-wide campaign for the salvage of rubber, to even suggest that people should make trips of this kind at all seems to me, to say the least, most inconsistent and certainly tends to create confusion in the mind of the general public.

I trust that our Oil Controller will do something to put an end to this kind of publicity. When we are fighting with our backs to the wall, it is time to get down to brass tacks, and really begin to do something about a total war effort.

NEED FOR COPPER

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP).—Production Chief Donald M. Nelson disclosed today the War Production Board had drafted plans for "taking" from civilian use copper needed in the war effort—and "the first thing we'd take would be name plates, because wooden ones will do."

Great Opportunities for Post-War Rehabilitation Seen by Hon. H. G. T. Perry and Party After Tour of Central British Columbia Centres

WITH every community presenting valuable information regarding the possibilities for postwar development, the actual and potential resources of Central British Columbia were clearly evidenced to five members of the Postwar Rehabilitation Council in the course of their recent tour, Hon. H. G. T. Perry, chairman, said on his return to Victoria yesterday.

"Every community presented valuable information regarding the possibilities for planned land settlement, the opportunities for timber, mineral and waterpower development; the possibilities for establishment of new industries; the necessity for providing electric power in rural areas and particular emphasis was placed at almost every point on the necessity for packing plants, abattoirs, cheese factories and creameries where the latter are not already established, to provide markets near the sources of production," said Mr. Perry.

Accompanying Mr. Perry on the eleven-day tour were H. E. Winch, M.P.P.; J. A. Paton, M.P.P.; C. G. MacNeil, M.P.P., and W. A. C. Bennett, M.P.P. E. T. Kenney joined the council at Terrace and accompanied the party to various points as far as Vanderhoof. W. T. Straith, M.P.P., also a member of the council, was unable to accompany the party owing to illness. The council left Vancouver by C.N.R. on June 14 and visited the following centres in Central British Columbia and Northern Cariboo: Valemont, McBride, Terrace, Hazelton, Smithers, Burns Lake, Vanderhoof, Prince George, Quesnel and Williams Lake. They returned to Vancouver on Wednesday evening by P.G.E. and by boat.

GREAT ACTIVITY NOTED

Mr. Perry, a resident of Central British Columbia at Prince George for more than thirty years, said that he was astounded at the development now apparent throughout the whole of Central British Columbia and which is largely or almost entirely due to activities related to the war.

"Hotel and eating accommodation is at a premium in almost every community along the C.N.R. line," he said.

Public hearings were held in all the centres visited and the Rehabilitation Council members were met by village or city councils, representatives of the Canadian Legion, boards of trade, farmers' institutes and other bodies, all of whom presented carefully-prepared briefs as well as oral suggestions.

"All members of the Postwar Rehabilitation Council were gratified at the trouble taken by the citizens to prepare plans suitable for purposes of rehabilitation in their respective districts. The remarkable response to letters from the council soliciting advice was of great encouragement to the members," said Mr. Perry.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE

At every place representations were made opposing the old and present system of undirected settlement, he said. Recommendations were made for comprehensive plans of settlement in defined areas, thoroughly soil surveyed with reasonable acreage cleared and ready for cultivation before being occupied, and for adequate housing and building as part of any programme of postwar rehabilitation.

Industrial opportunities, the minister said, included development of coal, iron, copper, base metals, marble, clays and other minerals. Facilities for development of waterpower and timber resources in lumber, pulp and rayon, and the necessity for transportation by highways and roads were all noted by the council.

"Of particular interest were the hot mineral springs at Lake Lakelse and the members were surprised that neither the Canadian National Railways nor other investors had developed this remarkable resource as a health and tourist resort," Mr. Perry observed.

RUSSIANS FALLING BACK AT KHARKOV

The Soviets said there were no material changes on other sectors but told of successes by Red forces in unidentified areas, including the sinking of two transports by field artillery and the partial annihilation of two battalions of enemy infantry.

Sevastopol, now virtually a ruin under a pall of smoke and dust, went into its fourth week of resistance to the death with its outer defences shell-torn and overrun but its inner fortress line intact.

USING NEW WEAPON

The Crimean port was taking a pounding from a strange, huge new weapon the German High Command was using for the first time.

Russian reports described it as a 615-millimetre weapon.

It was believed here to be a twenty-four-inch howitzer or mortar. There were no other details of the huge cannon.

This weapon would be considerably larger than the biggest artillery rifles or howitzers known. It might be a mortar for hurling large mines.

Although dispatches from the city acknowledged that its position was "quite serious," Red Star reported that the tremendous losses the Germans suffered—losses estimated at 5 to 1 against the Nazis—were sapping the strength of the assault.

Aid for the battered defence forces was reported brought to Sevastopol by a warship of the Black Sea Fleet which steamed into port at the height of the fighting, bringing supplies and reinforcements, and left with wounded after turning its own guns on the German positions for two hours.

HEAVILY POUNDED

Bombs have fallen on the city at a rate of 1,000 a day, and the destruction has been increased by the steady pounding of heavy artillery.

The army newspaper, Red Star, reported from the Kharkov front that the intensity of tank battles was increasing, losses were piling higher and hills and villages were changing hands with charge and counter-charge.

Red Star said that in the first thrust of the offensive, June 22, the Nazi 14th and 16th Tank Divisions were supported by 400 planes and concentrations of artillery.

Far to the north, snowfall was reported hampering German efforts to bomb shipping and communications in the Murmansk area and along the Arctic sea lanes.

Reports reaching here said guerrilla operations still were causing the Germans trouble behind the lines. Guerrillas northwest of Moscow reported killing 2,500 men of the 163rd German Division which was sent in to restore the Nazi grip on their section.

SUGGESTS BOOST IN SOLDIER PAY

Eastern Member Is Applauded by House When He Mentions $50 Per Month

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—A suggestion that the minimum rate of pay for Canadian soldiers be increased to $50 a month was made in the House of Commons today by Arthur Slaght (Liberal, Parry Sound), and was applauded by members in all parties.

He commented on the recent United States Senate action fixing a $50 monthly minimum for American soldiers and added: We ought to put the same legislation on our statute books at once."

If this could not be done, he said, the difference between the present minimum rate of pay and $50 should accumulate and be paid the soldier at the end of the war.

Fix Charges for Fur Repairing

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—An order announced today by Michael Morris, administrator of fur skins and fur garments, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, regulates charges for altering and repairing fur garments.

The new order specifies no person "wholly or partly engaged" in the business of altering and repairing fur garments shall make a charge which includes a mark-up on cost greater than the mark-up obtained in the basic period, September 15-October 11, 1941.

All persons engaged in this business are required hereafter to keep an accurate record of all costs of labor and materials involved in each contract for repairs or alterations, the board said.

Where the cost is to exceed $15, written authorization of the work must be obtained from the person so charged, showing the nature of the alterations and repairs and the estimated charge. If on completion the actual cost is less than anticipated, the customer will receive rebate.

The per capita circulation of silver for the world is estimated at $2.91.

HOW TO KEEP RAYONS FREE FROM RUNS

1. Buy carefully and be sure you get your right size and length.

2. Easy does it — put on your rayons as carefully as those silk ones you used to have.

3. Avoid coke soap rubbing: don't twist . . . harsh handling weakens delicate threads, encourages runs.

4. Dip stockings in lukewarm Lux every night when you take them off. This saves their elasticity . . . helps them fit better.

5. Gently squeeze out moisture without wringing, then roll in a turkish towel. Hang over a rod away from heat and sun. Don't use clothespins.

6. Dry a whole day at least, after dipping before you wear them again. Rayons are strongest when perfectly dry.

YOUR glamorous new rayons or bembergs need gentle care. Be sure you dip them in Lux every night. Gentle Lux whisks away harmful perspiration which rots delicate threads. Lux cuts down embarrassing, costly runs.

Choir Concert Is Given In Aid of A.R.P. Funds

Portland Organist Takes Part in Programme—Dudley Wickett and Mrs. W. H. Wilson Are Vocalists—Military Band Is Heard

A large and attentive audience filled the Metropolitan Church last night to hear the joint concert by the United Church choirs of the city, who combined their talents under the artistic and musicianly conductorship of Mr. Frank Tupman to help the A.R.P. funds and so contribute as one body to further the war effort.

The choirs from the following churches formed the chorus: St. Aidan's, Garden City, Wilkinson Road, Fairfield, James Bay, Centennial, Belmont, First United and Metropolitan. Mr. Edward Parsons presided at the organ console, giving adequate and artistic support. The choirs were assisted by the Gordon Head Camp Band, under the able leadership of Bandmaster Delament.

The guest artist was Mr. Lauren B. Sykes, A.A.G.O., of Portland, and a well-known organist of that city. Mr. Sykes was introduced to the audience by Mr. Parsons, who spoke feelingly of the "magnificent attitude" shown by Mr. Sykes in wishing to help in the Canadian war work. He added that recently the organist had given up his church organ and six choirs to join the American Army. In tribute to the country Mr. Sykes represented, Mr. Parsons played "The Star Spangled Banner."

LOCAL COMPOSER

Of local interest in the group which Mr. Sykes played, the first performance in the city was given of a new composition by John I. Smith, Victoria organist and composer. The title of the piece was "Festival Toccata," written and dedicated to Frederick J. Chubb, organist of Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, B.C. This number is a brilliant work calling for a large organ and an accomplished organist. Mr. Sykes did justice to the work, in which the second part with its quiet melodic theme made an effective contrast to the more brilliant opening, the whole being climaxed by a majestic and triumphant chorus. The coda, being rather animated, made a satisfactory finish.

Mr. Sykes has played this number with great success at many music recitals in Portland, Ore., including those held at the large civic auditorium. Mr. Smith shared in the applause at the conclusion of the number.

OTHER NUMBERS

Outstanding among the other numbers played by the organist was "Pileuse," a whimsical composition of Alec Rowley, one of the noted modern British composers. The other number, "Liebestraum" (Liszt), arranged for the organ by Ethelbert Nevin, has rarely been played with such subtle changes of tonal color. In this Mr. Sykes showed his ability in his expressive solo work and phrasing. As a recitalist, Mr. Sykes leaves nothing to be desired, his clean touch, finished work with the pedals and manuals and his colorful registration placing him in the rank of leading organists who have been heard in this city.

BAND'S CONTRIBUTION

The programme opened with two band numbers, "Passing of the Regiment" (Wisten), a medley of marches played with good spirit, the forte passages well controlled. Bandsman Hastings gave a nice interpretation of Cadman's "At Dawning." In the selection of Scottish melodies the various brass sections were given an opportunity to show some good individual playing. Though the pitch was not always secure, the band had rhythm.

A clever seating arrangement had been put to the test by Mr. Tupman. The soprano section was on either side of the gallery with the men forming a block centre and the alto section in front. In this way all the inner parts were audible and the whole choir was heard to better advantage. At all times the choir work showed nice attention to artistic detail, and in the opening number especially, good diction. The Sullivan chorus, "O Gladsome Light," was beautifully graded in tone, the closing section rendered with a lovely pianissimo, the tenor voice being heard most effectively. The choir closed its portion of the programme with selections from Handel's "Samson." Before starting, Mr. Tupman voiced a personal word of appreciation to Mrs. W. H. Wilson, who, in the absence of Mrs. Arthur Dowell, sang on short notice the difficult aria, "Let the Bright Seraphim," without which the whole would have lacked unity. Another soloist was Lieut. Dudley Wickett, R.C.N.V.R., well-known Victoria tenor, who sang the stirring and difficult solo, "Sound the Alarm," from "Judas Maccabeus" (Handel) and received an ovation. The Fairfield United Church Trio, Miss Isabelle Pike, Mr. R. Husband and Mr. R. Hamilton, gave great pleasure in their presentation of "The Heavens Are Telling" (Haydn). Mr. Austin Curtis expressed thanks to all who had assisted in making the concert a success.

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

★ How to get sure-fire canning results ★ Guaranteed fresh produce to "put up" ★ An easy way to find time to play

Don't risk spoilage this year in your Home Canning

Read and remember these precautionary suggestions that come from the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau.

To avoid the danger of spoilage that botulinus bacteria brings, pressure cooking is the only really safe method of processing meat, fish, poultry, and all vegetables except tomatoes. Pressure cooking maintains the above-boiling temperature required for sterilization.

Tomatoes and fruits, because they are acid, don't favor growth of botulinus bacteria, so you may can fruits and tomatoes by any reliable method that's convenient.

Sterilization of jars, lids, and rubbers is always important. Examine them before you begin, and discard any that are nicked and cracked or loose fitting.

Wash jars (and old lids, if reusable) in hot soap suds; rinse well; cover with warm water in a large kettle or dish pan, and boil 15 min. to sterilize. A clean dish towel on the bottom of the pan guards against breakage. Let jars stand in hot water 'til ready to use.

Sterilize new tops or lids by placing in pan and covering with boiling water. Always use new rubbers; sterilize in boiling water.

No matter what method of canning you use—(open kettle, hot or cold pack), or what means of processing (water bath, steam cooker or pressure cooker)—follow specific directions.

WEDDINGS

McEVAY—HILL

The marriage was celebrated by Rev. J. C. Jackson in Victoria West United Church at 8:30 o'clock last [illegible] younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Hill, 1209 Alderman Road, and Mr. James William McEvay, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. C. McEvay, 539 Langford Street. Tall baskets of snapdragons and Canterbury bells were used in decoration of the church, and posies of pink and white carnations marked the guest pews. Miss Amy Anderson played the organ, and during the signing of the register Miss Elaine Harte sang "Until." The bride, a small brunette, was given away by her father, and wore a floor-length frock of white chiffon buttoned down the back. The bodice, with bishop sleeves, was caught into the tight waistline, and was trimmed with Swiss embroidery. Her hip-length veil of embroidered French net fell from a high coronet of waxed lilies and orange blossom, and she carried a shower bouquet of vari-hued gerbera. Miss Joyce Merrick, as maid of honor, was gowned in pale pink chiffon, and Miss Marion Watson, the bridesmaid, in turquoise blue. The frocks were fashioned with long full skirts from fitted waists, and had bishop sleeves, and were worn with Mary Tudor headdresses. They carried bouquets of rose snapdragons and salmon pink carnations, and Suntan snapdragons and pale pink carnations, respectively. Little Myria Jewett was a dainty flower girl, in a long frock with a full, tiered skirt of yellow organdy, with a round neck and short puff sleeves. She also wore a wreath of flowers in her hair and carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds. Mr. William Smith was best man, and Messrs. Richard Merrick and Warren Barker were ushers. The reception was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall, during which the couple stood beneath a floral arch to receive the good wishes of their friends. Mrs. Hill was dressed in old gold crepe with a matching hat and accessories, and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses, and Mrs. McEvay was in deep blue chiffon with a matching jacket, navy accessories and a corsage bouquet of Pernet roses. The bridegroom's uncle, Mr. Lawrence Samson, proposed the toast, after which the bride cut the cake which centred the supper table, the latter being covered with a lace cloth and decorated with silver vases of yellow roses at each corner. Miss Elaine Harte sang during the evening and Mr. Albert Denoni played selections on his accordion. For a honeymoon on the Mainland the bride left in a rose princess dress with a black fitted overcoat, a rose straw hat and accessories en suite. Mr. and Mrs. McEvay will make their home at 527 Langford Street. Mr. and Mrs. A. James, Vancouver; Mrs. E. Rose, Forest Gate, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Donaldson, East Sooke, and Mr. and Mrs. G. Grimshaw, Cowichan Lake, were guests at the wedding.

TATHAM—MERRETT

The marriage was celebrated by Rev. J. H. Wright, D.D., Nanaimo, in St. Aidan's United Church, Mount Tolmie, at 8 o'clock last evening between Ida Alice, only daughter of the late Mr. C. Tatham and Mrs. Tatham, 772 Cloverdale Avenue, and Mr. John Eric Merrett, B. Ap. Sc., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Merrett, Cedar Hill Crossroad. Miss Velma Jacklin presided at the organ, and the vocal soloist was Miss Margaret Don, who sang "I'll Walk Beside You," during the signing of the register. Mixed Summer flowers were arranged in the church. The bride was escorted up the aisle by her cousin, Walter Cheeseborough, R.A.F., formerly of Burnley, Lancs., England, and was given away by her mother. Her gown of white bridal satin featured a Sweetheart neck and long sleeves, and the full skirt ended in a train. Her veil of net over chiffon, a gift from Robert Trowsdale, now serving overseas, billowed from a cap of lace trimmed with orange blossom, white heather and a single gardenia, and Ophelia roses and gardenias composed the shower bouquet. Her only ornament was a necklace, the gift of the groom. The attendants were Miss Muriel Sprinkling, maid of honor, wearing a full-skirted frock of turquoise blue net with touches of lace, and Miss Barbara Myles, in apricot net with lace. The frocks had short puff sleeves and square necklines, and were worn beneath matching shoulder veils edged with lace. They carried Colonial posies of mixed flowers. Mr. William Lindsay, Vancouver, was best man, and acting as ushers were Mr. Allister Merrett, brother of the groom, and Mr. Marvin Volin, Gibson's Landing. The church hall was massed with flowers for the reception, where the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Tatham, in a navy blue jacket dress and hat, with white gloves, assisted by Mrs. Merrett, in a powder blue dress and cream hat, who wore corsage bouquets of pink gladioli, with darker pink rosebuds and sweet peas. The bride's table was centred with the cake surrounded by vases of rosebuds and a buffet supper was served. After a honeymoon on the Mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Merrett will return to Victoria to live. The bride went away in a powder blue ensemble with a fur-trimmed travel coat, navy blue accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias and rosebuds.

WILLIS—WATT

Rev. Hugh A. McLeod officiated at the wedding of Jessie Helen, younger daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Watt, Victoria, and Mr. George Willis, of Flin Flon, Manitoba, which took place in the vestry of First United Church at 8 o'clock last evening in the presence of a few friends. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Watt, brother and sister-in-law of the bride. The bride was dressed in French blue with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias, and Mrs. Watt was in dusty rose with beige accessories and a corsage bouquet of carnations and sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. Willis will make their home in Flin Flon.

NORTON—HALEY

Arriving only yesterday by plane from her home in the south, Miss Marilyn Haley, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Haley, of San Francisco, Cal., became the bride of Mr. Frank Norton, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Norton, 3010 Quadra Street, yesterday afternoon. The quiet ceremony was performed in the chapel of St. John's Church at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. George Biddle.

Given in marriage by Mr. B. C. Pettingell, a distant relative, the bride wore a smart afternoon frock of delphinium blue, with model hat of tabac brown felt ornamented on the wide brim with openwork effect, and brown accessories. Her corsage bouquet was composed of Ophelia roses, swainsona and white heather. Miss Ruth Norton, sister of the bridegroom, was the only bridesmaid, wearing a honey-colored afternoon frock, with French white hat, white accessories, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Mr. Leslie Entwistle was best man.

The chapel was decorated with Summer flowers for the ceremony, and flowers in colorful profusion were massed in the reception rooms at the home of the groom's parents, where relatives and a few intimate friends were welcomed after the service. The young couple were assisted by receiving by Mrs. Norton, in a smart gown of black and white figured silk, with wide-brimmed black straw hat and black accessories, and Mrs. B. C. Pettingell, who chose a gown of white jersey with fox furs, a blue hat and blue and white accessories. Both wore corsage bouquets of roses and sweet peas.

COUPON RATIONING

AT ONCE!

After July 1st no one will be able to purchase sugar for regular domestic use without turning in a ration coupon.

Application cards for coupon rationing for sugar have now been mailed to every household in Canada. In cities where there is a letter carrier service, these cards should have been picked up yesterday by a volunteer representative of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. But, in an undertaking so vast, some homes may have been missed, or some cards may have gone astray. So, no matter where you live, whether it is in areas served by letter carrier or not, if your application card is not already on its way to Rationing Headquarters, you should wait no longer.

After filling in the card, according to the instructions on the pamphlet which was delivered with it, just drop the card in the nearest mail box or post office. It needs no forwarding address.

IF YOU HAVE NOT RECEIVED AN APPLICATION CARD you should get one at the nearest Post Office at once.

Just drop the card in the nearest mail box or post office. It needs no forwarding address.

All Post Offices have received full instructions to rush application cards for coupon rationing to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board Office, where they will get immediate attention and the coupon ration cards mailed right back to you.

The ration cards being issued for use July 1st are for sugar only, and good for 10 weeks. At the end of that period a coupon ration book good for 6 months will be issued. Under the new system of coupon rationing, you are allowed the same amount of sugar as at present—½ lb. per person per week. The same provision as at present for additional quantities for preserving and jam and jelly making will be continued. Special voucher forms for this purpose are being supplied all retailers.

Labor Minister Urges Unions To End Three-Day Work Stoppage

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—Representatives of the Machinists' and Blacksmiths' Unions in Vancouver shipyards will meet tomorrow to discuss a telegram from Labor Minister Mitchell urging them to end their three-day work stoppage.

The telegram from the Labor Minister, received late today, was the newest development in the machinists' and blacksmiths' fight against a seven-day week ordered in all West Coast shipyards by the Department of Labor, but no action will be taken on it before tomorrow.

Grant Russell, an executive member of the Machinists' Union, said the situation was not affected by the return to work of fifty-five machinists in the Burrard Drydock Company's north yard, where they returned without pay to handle an emergency repair job. Volunteers were taken from the 600 men out in that yard. More than 1,000 men are out altogether.

Mr. Mitchell in his telegram said it was "anticipated" that a conference at Ottawa tomorrow with a deputation of West Coast shipyard workers would result in the latter "agreeing that the determination of the Government to work shipyards seven days a week is the only sound and proper policy in view of the urgent situation."

In view of tomorrow's conference "there is no reason why machinists should not immediately resume work," the telegram said.

The machinists and blacksmiths have refused to work the seven-day week since it was introduced in West Coast yards several weeks ago and three days ago laid down their tools in protest against orders that they must comply with the new regulation.

They have offered to return to work on a five and one-half day week schedule pending the outcome of tomorrow's conference, but Labor Department officials have been emphatic a seven-day week must be worked.

Log Cabin Resort Of National Road Open for Summer

MINAKI, Ont., June 25.—Minaki Lodge, the log cabin Summer resort of the Canadian National Railways in the Lake of the Woods district, opened today for the 1942 holiday season, with the Warehousemen's Convention. Delegates to the convention and their wives came from every large Canadian city west of Montreal and from such widely-scattered points in the United States as Chicago, Los Angeles and New York.

Members of the Passenger Club, of Winnipeg, will hold their annual outing at this resort on June 20 and 21, and this will be followed by the convention of the Western Canada Insurance Underwriters' Association, and the meeting of the Investment Bankers' Syndicate.

The golf course, the tennis courts and everything at the lodge has been put in readiness to handle what looks to be one of the best holiday crowds in the lodge's history.

LONDON (CP).—It takes longer to get to London town from Tilbury by railway trains these days, but the slowdown is helping speed up the war effort, the heavy locomotives being used for war goods traffic.

Through Trains Will Operate on Summer Schedule

Railway passenger traffic will be greatly increased during mid-Summer months and to meet the situation Canadian National Railways will operate two main line trans-continental trains daily, in each direction, effective June 28 to September 6, between the Pacific Coast and Eastern Canada, according to C. F. Earle, district passenger agent, Victoria.

The first train on the Summer schedule will leave Vancouver at 7:15 p.m. for Montreal, and the second, destined for Toronto, will follow at 8 p.m. Both will be fully equipped with various types of air-conditioned cars and will provide service to the many points on the C.N.R. route across Canada. In the mountains each train will carry a mountain-observation car.

There will also be minor changes in C.N.R. schedules on the Kamloops-Kelowna branch line.

Okanagan Valley travelers will be served by a special standard sleeping car attached to the train departing from Vancouver at 7:15 p.m. For the particular benefit of passengers destined to Saskatoon, a special "set-off" sleeper will be part of the equipment on the 8 p.m. train.

During the period June 28 to September 6, C.N.R. arrival times at Vancouver will be 8:20 a.m. from Toronto, and 8:35 a.m., from Montreal.

NEW BUILDINGS FOR LADYSMITH

LADYSMITH, June 25.—Despite restrictions affecting some materials for building, home improvements and some new building are evident in this city. The city council at the regular meeting last evening granted several permits and approved the sale of two more lots to prospective builders.

Ladysmith's well-known hills and dales make adequate ditching and drainage of the streets and avenues always an important consideration, and the problem of procuring tile and iron pipe for culverts has decided the council to purchase two sets of dies for the making of ten-inch concrete piping.

Mike Celle attended the council session and was given permission to state his complaint. He objected to the payment of the minimum sewer-frontage rate of two dollars, where, as in his case, the minimum was greater than the basic rate per foot for the aggregate frontage. The council noted his objection and decided that while nothing could be done this year, a recommendation to reconsider the levy would be placed before the 1943 council.

The Lions' Club, sponsoring the Dominion Day celebration in Ladysmith this year, invited the council to be represented in the parade. The invitation was accepted, and a request that the council donate a prize for the day was granted and the matter referred to the finance committee for action.

SUBMARINE PLAYED DEADLY GAME WITH SEGMENTS OF FLEET

PEARL HARBOR, T.H., June 25 (AP).—The story of an American submarine which played a deathly game of hide-and-seek with segments of the Japanese fleet which attempted to invade Midway was disclosed today by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the United States Pacific Fleet.

Alternately surfacing and submerging while surviving four depth charge attacks, the submarine succeeded in firing its torpedoes at an aircraft carrier previously crippled by American bombers.

"Heavy black smoke enveloped the carrier," read the submarine's log, "and formed a cloud to a height of a thousand feet like that above the U.S.S. Arizona when she burned at Pearl Harbor last December. Next day there was no trace of the carrier."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

West made the normal opening of the spade king and East played in the conventionally proper manner by following with his second highest spade. (At no trump, unless the partner of the opening leader has sound reason for wishing a shift of leads he should play his second highest to an opening lead of a king.) Declarer held up the spade ace, not being sure of a diamond break and wishing to disrupt spade communication between the two defenders. West correctly continued with the spade queen and this, too, was allowed to hold. Now West made a fatal spade continuation. Declarer won, cashed the diamond ace, and led another diamond toward dummy. West's showing out was a disappointment, but there was no choice except to continue and clear dummy's suit. East won and shifted to a club. Declarer clattered up with the ace and promptly cashed his nine tricks.

It had been quite proper for West to lead two rounds of spades, but the third round was illogical persistence. From West's point of view the only successful defence depended on East's ability to stop dummy's long diamond suit. Since both East and South had been shown to hold three spades, and since South was marked with the ace, West, after cashing in two tricks in the spade suit, should have looked for greener fields. Obviously, these should have been sought only in the club direction. It was very unlikely that East had good enough hearts to make a heart shift advantageous, but the success of a club shift would depend only on finding East with one of the top honors.

"IT'S POTATO PASTIE DAY TODAY, GIRLS!" says Martha Logan

MARTHA LOGAN: Today's recipe's an exciting new way to use left-over meat and potatoes.

BETTY: I've the potatoes here, Miss Logan.

MARTHA LOGAN: Mash them and season well, Betty, while Jane sifts the flour. Now we work in the shortening.

JANE: It really is a pleasure to work with Jewel, it creams so easily!

BETTY: Yes, and it blends so well with other ingredients!

MARTHA LOGAN: Right! That is a specially valuable quality in wartime, isn't it? Ready with the dough?

JANE: Yes—and here's the seasoned chopped veal.

MARTHA LOGAN: Now fold over the pasties and pop them in the oven. These mouth-watering little pies are as nutritious as they are delicious . . . typical of the recipes you'll find in our Jewel Cook Book!

POTATO PASTIES

½ pound (about 1½ cups) seasoned mashed potatoes, 1¾ cups sifted pastry flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅓ cup Jewel shortening, cold water, chopped left-over meat, seasoned and moistened with chili sauce or catsup.

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Work in Jewel, then add seasoned potatoes. Mix with cold water to make stiff dough. Roll ⅛ inch thick and cut in large ovals or rounds. Place a spoonful of meat mixture on half of each oval and fold over pastie (edge moistened) to enclose. Bake in hot oven, 425°, until browned. Serve hot. Minced ham, corned beef, etc., particularly delicious in these pasties.

WAR TO END IN VICTORY

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., Has Confidence in Canada's Contribution

Robert W. Mayhew, M.P., told members of the Kinsmen Club of Victoria last night that Canada was going through the most difficult period in her history and that the war would not be over until the enemy put down his arms.

A few weeks ago, he said, a wave of optimism swept the country, and today an equally dangerous attitude of pessimism has become widespread. After a brief review of recent events, however, he expressed himself as having never been more confident of victory.

"I know what is going on," he said, "and the preparations that are being made. We have decided to carry on, and, despite reverses, we are going ahead to victory."

In speaking of Canada's part in the war, Mr. Mayhew remarked that a common question asked of him was whether Vancouver Island should prepare for evacuation.

"Yes," he said, "but the preparations should be made to evacuate the enemy. Every man should be ready on his own part to defend the Island, not to run away from it."

FRENCH AND WAR

Commenting on the attitude of French Canada to the war, Mr. Mayhew said the greatest difficulty in that section lay with residents of rural areas, as they read little, their home is their life, and they see little reason for defending the home of anyone else. But he said there are extremists on both sides of this question, and part of the solution lies in the English - speaking Canadians making an attempt to understand the French.

When asked his opinion of the elimination of the teaching of foreign languages here, he said that more important issues than language were at stake, and that the issue led to Canada's most difficult battle of all, of achieving peace. At that time all men must act as brothers, he said, and "the other fellow" must be considered.

DEVELOP POWER

His answer to the last question asked, regarding the establishment of a steel plant on Vancouver Island, led Mr. Mayhew to state that the first step was the development of power, one of the Island's most important natural resources.

"Power should not be supplied as it is needed," he said, "but should be developed and held in reserve for anyone that wants it. For instance, the United States believed they were building fifty years ahead when Grand Coulee and Boulder Dam were constructed, but now they are being utilized to the full. Industries will come to Vancouver Island only if electrical energy is here."

For this reason, he said, the industries which are now centred in Eastern Canada, and which will be a deciding factor in ultimate victory, were able to expand. Stress must be laid on developing other resources than timber, he said, on which British Columbia depends to such an extent.

Crash Dive to Give Seamen Some Drill

One of the most spectacular photographs of a submarine diving is this one showing a "tin fish" plunging into the deep amid a smother of foam in a crash dive. This dive was made off New London, Connecticut, as more men received intensive training for undersea work. At the beginning of the crash dive, a signal shrieks, warning the crew, bells ring, indicating that the Diesel engines are stopped, ballast tanks are flooded and the electric motors are thrown into gear as the sub goes down.

Moose Women Name Officers

Victoria Chapter No. 25, Women of the Moose, met recently at the K. of P. Hall when officers for the ensuing year were installed. There was a large attendance and the hall was beautifully decorated with flowers in the order's colors—red, white and purple. The installing officers for the ceremony were: Grand parliamentarian, Mrs. E. Deane, installing regent; Mrs. V. Greenwood, installing guide; Mrs. M. Pearce, installing chaplain; and Mrs. A. Veach, installing pianist.

Officers installed for the ensuing year were: Senior regent, Mrs. D. Fairhurst; junior regent, Mrs. R. Williams; chaplain, Mrs. I. Brown; recorder, Mrs. H. Parker, and treasurer, Mrs. L. Moulten. Appointed officers installed were: Guide, Mrs. E. Alphen; assistant guide, Mrs. B. Stevens; argus, Mrs. I. Holmes; sentinel, Mrs. H. Frances, and pianist, Mrs. Ada Hatcher. Following the installation, the senior regent presented Miss D. Guelpa with her graduate regent's pin. Mrs. Fairhurst also gave small gifts to the installing officers, and the retiring officers, Mesdames A. Bird, C. Baker, H. Parker, M. Bentham, W. Spaven, E. Burke and A. Veach. Also remembered were the escorts, Mesdames L. Thompson, M. Nealon, C. Fairservice, L. Wallace, C. Brown, M. Groat, and Misses B. Frances and S. McLennan. The committee chairmen also received a token of appreciation for their year's work. The installation ceremony was in charge of the ritualistic chairman, Mrs. A. Hatcher, who received a gift from the escorts.

Grand Parliamentarian Mrs. E. Deane gave an interesting talk on the principals of the order, which gave encouragement to the newly-appointed officers. At the close of the evening refreshments were served.

Preceding the main event of the evening, a short business meeting was held with the senior regent, Mrs. D. Fairhurst, presiding. Grand Parliamentarian Mrs. Elizabeth Deane was presented by the following special escorts: Graduate Regent Mrs. M. Davis and Recorder Mrs. E. Burge, of Vancouver Chapter; and Graduate Regents Mrs. A. Hatcher and M. Pearce, of Victoria Chapter, who are all members of the Academy of Friendship. Reports were given by the sick matron, Mrs. M. Nealon; also by Mrs. W. Spaven, who stated that magazines had been delivered to the Salvage Corps. The sum of $10 was realized on the embroidered luncheon cloth donated by Mrs. E. Murchison. This amount will be given to the milk fund. Mrs. Groat, the home-making chairman, reported another quilt completed. Another member, Mrs. V. Warren, donated a hand-made tray in aid of the softball. The senior regent, Mrs. D. Fairhurst, left on Tuesday afternoon for Yakima, Wash., where she will represent the Victoria order at the Northwest Moose Association Conference.

The auditors will meet at the home of Mrs. M. Carter, 647 Dupplin Road, on July 2 at 2 o'clock. The next meeting will be held on July 13 at 8 p.m.

FAULTY MEMORY

LONDON, June 25 (CP). — I. E. Turner, of the Army Physical Training Corps, is a sergeant today instead of a company sergeant-major, because in his excitement at going overseas he forgot security regulations. He disclosed information about troop movements in a letter to his wife and was reduced in rank by a court-martial.

Great works are accomplished not by strength but by perseverance.

Red Cross to Benefit From Garden Fete

Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, one of the most indefatigable of charity organizers, reports that arrangements for the grand garden gala to be held on August 12 at Government House in aid of the Canadian Red Cross are now well in hand.

Members of the Women's Canadian Club have agreed to take charge of the refreshments. This booth will be under their management and all kinds of delectable dainties will be on hand, with the exception of ice cream which will be served by ladies of the Red Cross units.

The Funway, where will be found all the fun of the fair, fortune tellers, teacup readers, bingo, housie-housie, Klondike faro, the wheel of life, the mystery cave, coconut shies, miniature shooting range, Aunt Sally, crystal gazing, weight-guessing contest and Petit des Cheveaux, will be operated by the Victoria service clubs.

From present indications it is clear that the gala will mark August 12 as outstanding in the calendar for this Summer.

Outdoor Club Goes Canoeing

The monthly outing of the Victoria Outdoor Club took the form of a canoe trip to the Summer camp of Miss Thorneycroft, Portage Inlet, on Monday evening. Seventeen members, with four R.A.F. men who recently arrived from the Old Land, left the canoe landing at the Gorge at 7:30 p.m. and made the trip in an hour. The party was quite informal, with Mr. Tom Goodlake, convener, and Miss Thorneycroft in charge of the affair. Refreshments were served before the party returned. It was announced that the next outing of the club will be held on July 5 at the Summer home of Miss Judy Peetz, Prospect Lake.

Not Eligible for Tax Deductions

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP). — Payments to group medical and hospital plans and medical co-operative schemes will not be regarded as eligible deductions from income in computing new taxes, Finance Department officials said today.

Deduction is allowed under the new budget for medical expenses in excess of 5 per cent of the taxpayer's income paid to "any qualified medical practitioner, dentist or nurse . . . or public or provincial licensed private hospital" for any birth in the family, illness or operation.

The deduction is limited to $400 for a single person, $600 for married persons and $100 for each additional dependent, not exceeding four.

FINED ON RENTALS

HALIFAX, June 25 (CP).—Harry Pascal, of Halifax, was fined $200, with the alternative of two months in jail, when he appeared before Magistrate R. J. Flinn today on a charge of collecting an excessive rental for an apartment contrary to wartime regulations. Pascal will appeal the conviction.

IN A FIX

It was the firm's annual dance. The junior bookkeeper had chosen a very attractive partner.

"By the way," he volunteered as they danced, "I'm glad our manager isn't here tonight. He's about the biggest ass of a man one can meet, and not fit for intelligent company."

She stopped dancing and stared hard.

"Young man," she snapped angrily, "do you know who I am?"

"Not the faintest idea," he said, easily.

"Well, I'm the manager's wife!" she informed him.

"Gee whiz!" he exclaimed. "Now, do you know who I am?"

"No," said his partner.

"Thank goodness for that!" he replied, as he backed hurriedly for the exit.

Even mistakes and weariness, rightly used, turn to our good and beget confidence.

Nazis Appealing For Bodyguards

LONDON, June 25 (CP). — Following the assassination of Reinhard Heydrich in the Czech protectorate, Netherlands Nazis have taken measures to insure their safety, it was reported today. Anton Mussert, leader of The Netherlands Nazi Party, inserted a large advertisement in all Netherlands newspapers asking for "young, strong, devoted" Nazi youths, [illegible] years of age, for service as his personal bodyguard.

It is the holding on, the following on, that counts in our moods of discouragement.

WE'LL STAY "IN SERVICE" LONGER If You Clean Us With Only New Improved OLD DUTCH CLEANSER

Our country needs every ounce of vital metal and every Canadian housewife can help simply by taking care of her pots and pans so they will give the longest possible service.

Longer service starts with safe cleaning. Use New Improved Old Dutch Cleanser and you can be sure that you are cleaning your pots and pans with the greatest of care because Old Dutch doesn't scratch or mar the surface and therefore will keep them new looking longer. Old Dutch is made with Seismotite, cleans and polishes thoroughly but gently, and with its newly added ingredient it dissolves grease and makes all your cleaning easier and quicker.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Reddy Fox Almost Succeeds

—By THORTON W. BURGESS—

Reddy lay flat and waited

Reddy Fox was hurrying through the Green Forest. Reddy was in a very bad temper, a very bad temper indeed. His ears still burned with the laugh of Shadow the Weasel when Shadow had found the snug little hollow in the black birch tree empty. Reddy had been so sure that Baby Possum was in there, and then to find that Baby Possum had actually fooled him and had got safely away was bad enough, but to have Shadow the Weasel find it out and laugh at him was worse. Reddy Fox felt sure that Shadow would tell everybody he met and Reddy knew that then everybody in the Green Forest and on the Green Meadows would make fun of him.

So Reddy Fox trotted through the Green Forest in a very bad temper. He was hungry. He had been sure that he was going to have Baby Possum for his dinner that day and now—well, he would have to find something else. So he hurried along, keeping his eyes wide open, but seeing nothing nothing to eat. Presently he came to the Laughing Brook where it runs through the Green Forest. Perhaps he could catch a fish. Reddy Fox stole up the edge of the bank and peeped over. What he saw made him duck down out of sight in a hurry. Then Reddy Fox smiled a broad smile, a very broad smile indeed. What had he seen? Why, right out in the Laughing Brook was Baby Possum himself, having a ride on the back of Snapper the Turtle. And there on the other bank of the Laughing Brook was Peter Rabbit dancing a funny little jig and waving to Baby Possum.

Reddy Fox lay perfectly still and peeped through the bushes. Pretty soon he heard Snapper the Turtle tell Baby Possum that he would land him on the other side. Reddy grinned to himself. "I'll be right there when he does," thought Reddy, "and then——" Reddy licked his lips as if he already could taste something pretty nice.

Then Reddy crept back from the edge of the Laughing Brook until he was sure that he couldn't be seen by anyone in the brook. Back he crept and then hurried as fast as he could go up to a crossing place of which he knew. Once across he hurried until he was nearly to the place where he had seen Baby Possum and Snapper the Turtle. It wouldn't do to let Peter Rabbit know that he was anywhere near, so Reddy crawled along on his stomach until he reached a mossy old log. Behind this Reddy lay flat down and waited.

Pretty soon Reddy Fox heard Snapper the Turtle paddling to the shore, and then right at the very end of the very log behind which Reddy Fox was hiding Baby Possum hopped ashore. Reddy Fox waited until Baby Possum had climbed the bank. Then Reddy wriggled himself around and made ready to spring. Baby Possum was surely his this time. Reddy's hungry eyes were yellow and fierce. He drew himself together to spring and then—why, Reddy Fox yelled with surprise and fright instead.

Next story: Why Reddy Fox Could Not Jump.

That Body of Yours

MORALE

There are a great many today who are annoyed at or ashamed of themselves when they find they are so anxious about the things of today and of the future. They hear or read of some reverse, in war or business, and they find themselves anxious, in fact, almost cowardly. I think all of us feel that way at times, but fortunately not all the time.

It is only natural for the bravest and the sanest of us to be anxious at times and this fact should cause no alarm.

In an editorial, "Morale" in The Journal of the American Medical Association, is a quotation from the bulletin of the Association for the Advancement of Psychoanalysis. The three basic principles which all of us should keep in mind are:

1. Under war conditions an increase in anxiety and tension is natural and inevitable. Unless this is realized, an individual might consider himself cowardly and contemptible when he is actually sharing a common experience. If anxiety makes an individual unfit for mental or physical effort, then it is most probably not associated with war and is really due to a personal problem for which aid may be obtained from his physician or a psychiatrist.

2. Planned and directed efforts are valuable psychologic and mental helps in controlling anxiety. Foolhardiness and impulsiveness are no cures for fear. They actually undermine the morale of an individual or group.

3. Inactivity and isolation (keeping away from other individuals) cause anxiety. Useful well-directed, interrelated tasks in the interests of the community not only lessen individual tensions, but are constructive and sustain general morale.

"A nation with good morale is one with enthusiasm, confidence, team work and endurance." Many of us like to think that morale is just common sense, but even sensible people can have their morale lowered if these basic principles are forgotten.

I believe that all of us can be helped by keeping in mind these three basic principles of building and maintaining morale. It would keep all of us working on worthwhile tasks, cut down on criticism of the Government and others, so that we would not only raise our own morale, but with others similarly minded, raise and maintain the morale of the nation.

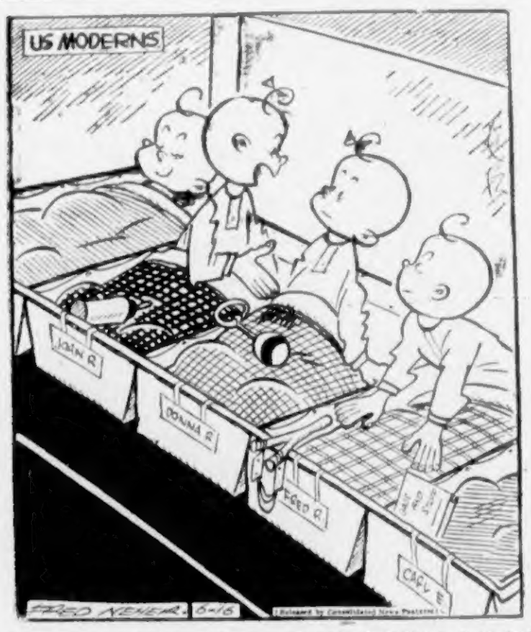
ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

LIFE'S LIKE THAT — By Fred Neher



"I just got a peek at my father . . . did yours look like a ghost, too?"

QUICKIES

Why don't he use a Colonist Want Ad!"

VIRTUE IN OLD SHIRT

LONDON, June 25 (CP).—Survivors of H.M.S. Edinburgh, sunk while escorting a Russia-bound convoy, held an auction in a snow-covered field in Northern Russia to raise money for the wives and children of their lost mates.

One seaman gave $4.50 for an old shirt and a second gave the auctioneer $4.50 to see the shirt. He donned the garment then and there in the cold. A third paid $4.50 to put his chilly hand on the shirt-buyer's exposed back.

What Today Means

"CANCER"

If June 26 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m., from 2:45 to 4:45 p.m., and from 8:45 to 10:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:45 to 10:45 a.m., from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m., and from 10:45 p.m. until midnight.

If you will take the time to count your blessings on June 26 you probably will discover that you have little cause to complain. It might help you to keep from getting discouraged after hearing adverse comments, if you will remember that there is hardly any person or thing that hasn't some flaw that fault finders can discover when they make up their minds to be supercritical. Many erroneous impressions are apt to be created by ambiguously worded letters and telegrams, so take every precaution to express yourself plainly when you have occasion to write. Married and engaged couples, as well as sweethearts, will do well to realize that at times truth is stranger than fiction and that June 26 may prove the correctness of this saying.

If you are a woman and June 26 is your birthday, you may need to be reminded that there is a time to work and a time to play and that a certain amount of relaxation will benefit you greatly. Of an enthusiastic nature, you probably put your heart and soul in anything you undertake. There are many indications that a series of successes will bring you closer and closer to the goal of your aspirations. Your efforts in histrionic, literary, missionary, social welfare, musical, artistic, educational, dietetical, or specialized office work, should assume bright future for you. Your matrimonial career appears to be surrounded by auspicious conditions.

The child born on June 26 often is the pivot around which domestic felicity revolves. Children born under Cancer often prove to be the mediums through which an abundance of happiness flows into many lives and a parental sense of responsibility is developed. Natural-born go-getters, youngsters born under this zodiacal sign seldom fail to live up to expectations that they will develop the ability to carve their names in the hall of fame.

If you are a man and June 26 is your natal day, you can advance your interests greatly if you curb any tendency you have to do things impetuously. As a lawyer, doctor, chemist, scientist, educator, journalist, sales representative, soldier, sailor, aviator, manufacturer, author or business manager, your record ought to be one of which you can be justly proud.

APOTHECARY

One who puts them away!

"Apothecary: The physician's accomplice, undertaker's benefactor, and graveworm's provider."—Ambrose Bierce.

There is a story that when Jove sent his blessings to all men, he enclosed them in a jar which he handed to the celestial messenger, Mercury, to take down to earth.

Mercury, Latin god of gain and commerce.

"That friend of tricksters introduced by stealth
Disease for the apothecary's health,
Whose gratitude impelled him to proclaim:
'My deadliest drug shall bear my patron's name!'"

Perhaps we should have hoarded this anecdote for the stickful on how the poisen Mercury came to be so-called; but we thought it particularly flavorful in connection with the origin of the word apothecary.

It derives from the Greek word meaning "to put away!"

INSTRUCTOR AN ALIEN

LONDON (CP)—Jiu jitau instructor in the Home Guard, Hidetake Makano, forty-five, Japanese engineer, was fined £1 ($4.50) for breach of the Aliens' Midnight Curfew Order, being stopped while walking home in the early hours after giving a class.

Continuance of Irregularity in New York Mart

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP).—The stock market had little to go on today in the way of hopeful war news or tax optimism, and the result was a continuance of mild irregularity.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was unchanged at .35. Transfers of 245,420 shares compared with 243,680 Wednesday.

Among scattered strong spots was U.S. Distributing preferred, which jumped 3 1-2 points to a new top since 1931. Boeing was up 1 3-8 in the wake of a $1 dividend declaration, first since the initial disbursement of 40 cents in December, 1937.

CLARIFICATION OF BILL ASKED

Veterans' Land Measure Appears to Lack Flexibility, Says B.C. Council

Unless the Veterans' Land Act is so amended as to be more comprehensive in scope and clarified in greater detail, the British Columbia Postwar Rehabilitation Council has recommended that action on it be delayed so as to permit further study and inquiry.

This recommendation was made by the council members to the parliamentary committee at Ottawa when contacted by wire during their recent trip through Central British Columbia and Northern Cariboo districts. The council's advice was sought following certain verbal representations made to W. S. Woods assistant deputy to the Minister of Pensions and Health.

REQUIREMENTS VARIED

In his reply Hon. H. G. Perry Minister of Education, on the direction of the Postwar Rehabilitation Council, of which he is chairman, said:

"There are so many different kinds of settlement required in this province, some for large acreage for mixed farming, smaller for fruit and smaller holdings, that the bill appears to lack the flexibility required both as to limit of purchase price and limit of advances for stock and equipment, as in some cases the smaller amount may be required for land purchase."

Included among its recommendations, the council favors the general plan of the bill providing for sale of lands to veterans at reduced prices and advancing funds for stock and equipment.

Members are of the opinion that the act should permit authority for expenditures to be made in acquiring and bringing under cultivation raw lands, and the same amount of money as is available to purchase farms should be available to clear and cultivate sufficient acreage on each holding in selected areas in British Columbia.

FIVE INTEREST-FREE YEARS

The council advised that no interest be charged to veterans during the first five years of occupancy.

It suggested that power should be incorporated in the bill to permit loans or subsidies to private enterprise for the construction of packing plants, creameries and abattoirs so that markets would become available to veterans and other producers for their products.

The council also proposed that the principle of purchasing and reselling land to veterans be applied to the fishing industry, if not already included in the new bill.

PAGEANT HELD BY STUDENTS

Patriotic Theme Carried Out In Closing Exercises at Margaret Jenkins

The Margaret Jenkins closing exercises and graduation tea were held on Wednesday in the auditorium of the school in the form of a pageant of the United Nations. Twenty-three cadets entered the hall bearing large cardboard flags of the Allies painted by pupils. They took up a victory "V" formation on the floor of the hall in front of the platform.

The curtain rose for the singing of "O Canada" to display thirty-five girls of the senior classes dressed in white and blue, wearing bandoliers of red, white and blue, and supported by two girls in red Scottish uniform with pipes, and one girl in a red Russian costume. The girls were seated in tiers rising on each side of steps leading to a throne at the back under a Royal Standard. Large flags flanked the stage and smaller Union Jacks here and there gave a further patriotic tone to the setting.

The entry of Britannia and her ascension to the throne was the signal for all to rise for the singing of "Rule Britannia." Each flag was then brought forward in turn by a cadet, while another pupil gave a short history of that particular flag and the country it represented. In between numerous appropriate national songs were sung, ably accompanied by Stanley Bulley.

Following the concert, the Parent-Teacher Association gave a graduation tea to the Grade VIII pupils, their parents, teachers and the school trustees. The tables, set in the shape of a "U," were decorated in the school colors, pink and green. The Grade VIII girls filed into tea dressed in the dresses they made in the home economics class, while the boys still wore their cadet uniforms.

PRESENT PRIZES

Doreen Rust made an excellent chairman and introduced the speakers. Mrs. G. W. Pottinger, the new president of the P.-T.A., welcomed the guests and, representing the late Mrs. Margaret Jenkins, presented the Margaret Jenkins Prize to the leading pupil of the school, Margaret Hastings, who gave an excellent resume of the year's work and appropriately thanked the P.-T.A. and the teachers. Mrs. C. Hudson, the convener of the bursary committee of the Women's Canadian Club, also spoke and presented Beverley Findler with the Canadian History Prize for proficiency in that subject. The principal, W. H. Muncy, after a few brief remarks, made a presentation to John Armour as leading boy of the school.

The P.-T.A. was then thanked by John Armour for its assistance to the school during the past year and for the present graduation tea. After grace by Ruth Gray, members of the P.-T.A. served tea to the graduating students and their guests, Mrs. C. Shaw, retiring president, and Mrs. G. W. Pottinger, new president of P.-T.A., pouring tea.

During the afternoon the school band, formed under the direction of A. Prescott, entertained the guests, who included Alderman and Mrs. P. E. George, H. L. Campbell, municipal inspector of schools, and Mrs. Campbell, F. G. Mullinet, chairman of the board of school trustees, and Colonel and Mrs. W. N. Winsby.

Besides the graduation exercises and tea, there was a display of woodwork and stripwork which had been done under the guidance of Len Campbell.

Troops Entertained

The Knights of Columbus Hut was filled with members of the four services for the variety show under the direction of James McGrath. The following took part:

Bundock, Velde Wille, Theresa Perkins, June Gibson, Illace Roskelly, Bernice Fawcett and Don Olfver and his uke. Paul Michelin was musical director and Sam Harrison stage director. Betti Clair and Jerry Schofield's song and dance revue will be the featured attraction on July 5.

DANCE TEAM

CHAPTER XI

The next few days were ideal for Tony and Fay. Their reconciliation made happiness more precious. Peggy Reed's name was not mentioned, and if he had spoken to Artie about a job for her Tony did not tell Fay.

In their small dressing-room at the Crystal Club their costumes hung, ready and waiting. Tony's black suit which he would wear in his solo numbers was back from the cleaner. Their dancing shoes were arranged in neat pairs upon the shelf. Fay had purchased theatrical make-up which reposed on the dressing table in strange-looking tubes and bottles.

"The blue light will take all the color out of your face," Tony told her. "Be sure to use dark powder."

Fay was fingering the severe black velvet gown she would wear in "Modern Fantasy." It was her favorite dance. She and Tony were at their best in this. He in white; she in black; her white shoulders, his dark eyes—the flash of fair hair beneath the high black turban. It was a dance designed for youth and vitality. The music, especially composed for that number, had an odd rhythm, and in the blue light their whirling figures would be weirdly modernistic.

"It'll be a sensation," Artie had prophesied, watching their dress rehearsal.

Standing in their dressing-room, Fay turned to Tony, saying "It's such fun to dance with you, Tony. It's thrilling."

"You still think so? After I've dragged you through all these days of practice?"

"When we open tomorrow night I'll forget the hard work."

"And when you've danced as long as I have you'll forget the thrill."

Fay watched him slip on his street shoes. She was puzzled. "You mean you don't like to dance?"

"I like to dance with you, Sweet! But as a career I can't say I think much of it."

"Then why do you do it?" Again she had the feeling that this man, who was her husband, was in reality a stranger. She was vaguely conscious of a thread of mystery, of some unknown quantity. "Why do you do it?"

"Because it pays well," he said matter-of-factly.

There were many times like this when Fay felt that she did not understand him. He seemed to withdraw into himself. It hurt her pride, baffled her. Made her voice cool as she said, "If you're ready, let's go."

"Sweetheart!" He seemed to know her need of him. Drawing her close, he demanded, "Do you love me? Really love me? Are you sure you're not just in love with the lights and the music and the entertainment?"

Maybe his words had been true once, but not now. Didn't he feel the change in her? Didn't he know that her first infatuation for him had become so deep it touched the very bottom of her heart? "Oh, Tony!" she whispered.

"I'll never forget your mother saying that I was just a second-rate dancer," he continued thoughtfully.

So he had overheard! Fay embraced him tenderly. "Darling, it doesn't matter what she thinks."

They stood quietly for several moments. Fay felt his arm tighten around her and she knew that whatever secret worry he had, it was appeased.

"Some day I'll tell you a long story," he promised, kissing the tip of her nose.

"Tell me now," Fay begged, smiling.

"Nothing doing," Tony said. "We're going to eat. I'm starved."

When they returned to the hotel after dining at their favorite restaurant there were two letters waiting for them. One was from Fay's mother.

"Anything for me?" Tony asked, shedding his overcoat.

There was a pale blue envelope on which Tony's name was neatly inscribed in feminine handwriting. But Fay had made up her mind after the incident of Peggy Reed she would never again show foolish jealousy. And though the sight of that delicate handwriting was like a knife in her heart, she said pleasantly, "Yes, there's one for you, dear."

"Who from?" Tony demanded, sinking into a big armchair.

"I don't know."

"Well, open it, will you?"

"You'd better open it yourself, Tony. I want to read my own letter." She was trying to be fair about it.

But Tony yawned and closed his eyes. "Lord, I'm tired!"

Resolutely Fay handed the letter to him. As she did so she saw a name written on the back—Mary Holt, and a New York address.

"You'd better read it," Fay said quietly.
